Dear Co-op Member,

Tom Galvin of Jack Pine Savage Traders is coming to New England this Fall (October 15-November 30) with a purpose: to educate consumers on the difference between Organic Wild Rice and domestic, paddy grown, commercially-prepared rice.

Tom has put together an exciting in-store demo program that includes historic and educational information, recipies, nutritional information and taste samplings.

In addition, Tom would be happy to address any gathering while he is in our area. This program will discuss the virtues of Wild Rice, the politics of growing Wild Rice and a general informational presentation with a short video tape of harvesting and processing.

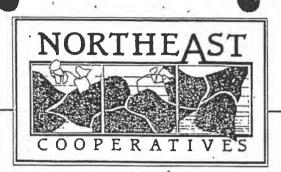

I will call you next week to set up a date for a demo in your store. In the meantime, please give me a call if you have any questions or comments.

Sincerely,

Pamela Sims

I have enclosed the results of my letter and phone calling. The dates are not etched in stone - I asked for preferences and suggestions. Except of course, for Hanover Bin.

I am still waiting for a response from two stores, but as I won't hear from them for a couple of weeks, I felt I should go ahead and mail this. One is Laconia Co-op in Laconia, NH and the other is the Brattleboro Co-op, here in town.

Tom, please give me a call if I can be of assistance in setting up your demo appointments.

Dear Chief:

The Stearns County Sheriff's Department and the FBI have formed a Task Force to coordinate the efforts on the kidnapping of Jacob Wetterling. We have come up with a multitude of investigative data on child sex offenders, including vehicle descriptions. We would be happy to share this information with you. We would like to be notified of any attempts to abduct children in your jurisdiction immediately upon your receiving such a report. We think with exchanging information immediately, we could help you solve your case, and hopefully obtain information which will help us find Jacob Wetterling.

Stearns County Task Force, (612) 259-3951, is accepting phone calls twenty-four hours a day.

Sincerely,

Charles Grafft

Dear Applicant:

Based on information supplied, and assuming your operations will be as stated in your application for recognition of exemption, we have determined you are exempt from Federal income tax under section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as an organization described in section 501(c)(3).

Decause you are a newly created organization; we are not now making a final determination of your foundation status under section 509(a) of the Code. However, we have determined that you can reasonably be expected to be a publicly supported organization described in sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi).

Accordingly: you will be treated as a publicly supported organization: and not as a private foundation: during an advance ruling period. This advance ruling period begins and ends on the dates shown above.

Within 90 days after the end of your advance ruling period, you must submit to us information needed to determine whether you have met the requirements of the applicable support test during the advance ruling period. If you establish that you have been a publicly supported organization, you will be classified as a section 509(a)(1) or 509(a)(2) organization as long as you continue to meet the requirements of the applicable support test. If you do not meet the public support requirements during the advance ruling period, you will be classified as a private foundation for future periods. Also, if you are classified as a private foundation, you will be treated as a private foundation from the date of your inception for purposes of sections 507(d) and 4940.

Grantors and contributors may rely on the determination that you are not a private foundation until 90 days after the end of your advance ruling period. If you submit the required information within the 90 days, grantors and contributors may continue to rely on the advance determination until the Service makes a final determination of your foundation status.

Letter 1045(D0/CG)

JACOB NETTERLING FOUNDATION INC.

If notice that you wish no longer be treated as a publicly supported organization is published in the Internal Revenue Bulletin, grantors and contributors may not rely on this determination after the date of such publication. In addition, if you lose your status as a publicly supported organization and a grantor or contributor was responsible for, or was aware of, the act or failure to act, that resulted in your loss of such status, that person may not rely on this determination from the date of the act or failure to act. Also, if a grantor or contributor learned that the Service had given notice that you would be removed from classification as a publicly supported organization, then that person may not rely on this determination as of the date such knowledge was acquired.

If your sources of supports or your purposes, characters or method of operation changes please let us know so we can consider the effect of the change on your exempt status and foundation status. In the case of an amendment to your organizational document or bylaws, please send us a copy of the amended document or bylaws. Also, you should inform us of all changes in your name or address.

As of January 1, 1984, you are liable for taxes under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (social security taxes) on remuneration of $100 or more you pay to each of your employees during a calendar year. You are not liable for the tax imposed under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA).

Organizations that are not private foundations are not subject to the private foundation excise taxes under Chapter 42 of the Code. However, you are not automatically exempt from other Federal excise taxes. If you have any questions about excise, employment, or other Federal taxes, please let us know.

Donors may deduct contributions to you as provided in section 170 of the Code. Bequests, legacies, devises, transfers, or gifts to you or for your use are deductible for Federal estate and gift tax purposes if they meet the applicable provisions of sections 2055, 2104, and 2522 of the Code.

Contribution deductions are allowable to donors only to the extent that their contributions are gifts, with no consideration received. Ticket purchases and similar payments in conjunction with fundraising events may not necessarily qualify as deductible contributions, depending on the circumstances. See Revenue Ruling 67-246, published in Cumulative Bulletin 1967-2, on page 104, which sets forth guidelines regarding the deductibility, as charitable contributions, of payments made by taxpayers for admission to or other participation in fundraising activities for charity.

Contributions to you are deductible by donors beginning MAY 22, 1991.

You are required to file Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt From Income Tax; only if your gross receipts each year are normally more than $25,000. However, if you receive a Form 990 package in the mail, please file

-3-JACOB WETTERLING FOUNDATION INC the return even if you do not exceed the gross receipts test. If you are not required to file, simply attach the label provided, check the box in the heading to indicate that your annual gross receipts are normally $25,000 or less: and sign the return. If a return is required, it must be filed by the 15th day of the fifth mouth after the end of your annual accounting period. A penalty of $10 a day is charged when a return is filed late, unless there is reasonable cause for the delay. However, the maximum penalty charged cannot exceed $5,000 or 5 percent of your gross receipts for the year, whichever is less. This penalty may also be charged if a return is not complete, so please be sure your return is complete before you file it. You are not required to file Federal income tax returns unless you are subject to the tax on unrelated business income under section 511 of the Code. If you are subject to this tax, you must file an income tax return on Form 990-T. Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return. In this letter we are not determining whether any of your present or proposed activities are unrelated trade or business as defined in section 513 of the Code. You need an employer identification number even if you have no employees. If an employer identification number was not entered on your application, a number will be assigned to you and you will be advised of it. Please use that number on all returns you file and in all correspondence with the Internal Revenue Service. If we have indicated in the heading of this letter that an addendum applies, the addendum enclosed is an integral part of this letter. Because this letter could help resolve any questions about your exempt status and foundation status, you should keep it in your permanent records. If you have any questions, please contact the person whose name and telephone number are shown in the heading of this letter. R. S. Marsha Cummines

Bureau of Criminal Apprehension 1246 University Ave. St. Paul, MN 55104

Dear Marsha:

Enclosed you will find an age enhanced photograph of Jacob Wetterling. The work was done at the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. Their people indicate it shows Jacob at either 14 or 15 years of age. On October 15, a meeting is set with the Wetterlings concerning the use of this age enhanced photograph. The Task Force members including the BCA, FBI and Stearns County Sheriff's Department will be present.

The Wetterling Foundation has indicated they want to publicize this photograph nation wide. Probable date for this would be on October 22, 1991 (second anniversary of Jacob Wetterlings abduction). Patty and Jerry indicated they would not distribute the photograph until they get input from law enforcement agencies. Marsha, your advise concerning the use of this photograph would be very appreciated. If you have any questions, feel free to contact either myself, Detective Boeckers, Detective Olson of the Stearns County Sheriff's Department or BCA SA Dennis Sigafoos.

Sincerely,

Doug Pearce Chief Deputy

This Author, Investigators, and the Wetterling Case:

This author started working on the Wetterling Case in October, 1990 after learning that Duane Hart could indeed be a suspect the case. However, it wasn't until March 1991 that information came from a person (inmate) who had spent a lot of time around Duane Hart. This person (inmate) gave information only because this author promised to keep his name

After obtaining information from this inmate, the author called his attorney, John Ellenbecker, of St. Cloud. Mr. Ellenbecker then notified Doug Pierce, Investigator on the Wetterling Case and a Deputy of the Stearns County Sheriff's Office. Mr. Pierce came to see the author in early April 1991 and was given all information from the author about the case. Mr. Pierce told the author to stay in touch and report further developments.

About two weeks later, in late April, the author was approached by another inmate who proceeded to tell more information. This inmate gave the information because he heard the author was involved with the NBC Program "Unsolved Mysteries" and wanted to know if the information would warrant a program on the Wetterling Case. The author obtained as much information from the inmate and passed this information on to Doug Pierce. At one point Mr. Pierce even came to see this inmate to make sure that what he was saying could be construed as the truth. The day after this inmate met with Doug Pierce, he approached the author and stated that he no longer wanted to be involved in the case since it appeared that "Unsolved Mysteries" was not immediately interested and why should he "put himself in danger when it appeared that a11 the investigators were doing is taking the themselves!"

Following Doug Pierce's meeting with the inmate in early May, this author never saw any more visits from the Stearns County officials. However, four telephone calls were made in June and in one of the phone conversations, Doug Pierce informed the author that "you are on the right track, but your guy is really in with some other suspects and cannot be treated as a prime suspect yet." Pierce then went on to assure the author that he should keep on searching for information and that the previous information was being checked out via computers and other data. It was even mentioned by Mr. Pierce that maybe somebody from the MN. B.C.A. would come and visit soon. The B.C.A. to this day has never been to this facility to discuss the case.

When it appeared that Stearns County and the B.C.A. were not to appear here at the Facility, the author notified Carol Watson of the Missing Children of Minn. organization and told her to come to this facility for a meeting.

THE JACOB WETTERLING CASE

Suspect: Duane Hart

Residence: Paynesville, Mn.

Sentenced: 1990 in Stearns County on 17 charges of child molestation -- suspect believed to have been sentenced to 15 years ---is serving sentence in Stillwater Prison. Other charges were also accumulated in other counties but no knowlege as to other charges is known at this time.

Personal History: Suspect has admitted to being a homosexual. He has admitted to who are unkown at this time. Suspect states that he was raised by a Foster family in the Paynesville area but if they indeed to exist their names are also unknown....Suspect has admitted to various other inmates that he has had sexual relations with young boys but feels that he can't help it Suspect also has stated that he has "Psychic" powers and because of these powers he can "see" what happened to Jacob Wetterling. Suspect also has stated that he likes "Martial Arts" and has described to some inmates his participation in the "Martial Arts" field.

Physical Appearance:

Suspect is believed to be in his 50's and is around 5' 10" to 6 feet tall. Suspect has light brown hair but has white hair mixed with the brown so at times it could appear that he has white hair. Suspect has a "trancelike" look at times which can be disturbing to onlookers---he also can at times have a piercing stare and this author has observed him at times in an uncomfortable position not wanting to look anyone in the eye. Suspect is very much a "loner" and does not want his face in any kind of picture. This author has seen the suspect become very uncomfortable around a camera... Suspect has admitted that he was a suspect in the Jacob Wetterling case and was questioned by the Investigators. Suspect has admitted to this author that he was very cooperative with the Investigators and was even taken back-Stearns County-for questioning one time after arriving at Stillwater. This author has no proof of that trip.

Work History:

Suspect has stated that he has been hired as a Welder, Construction Worker, Repairman, and also has done some Farm Work. The last job he has admitted having was that of a TV repairman where he had his own truck etc.....

DUANE HART & JACOB WETTERLING

March---April 1989:

This are the months Suspect has admitted to several inmates that he met a construction worker whose name this author believes to be Bloom. Hart & Bloom, accoring to Hart met and because both liked each other, participated in "Martial Arts" together and also bar-hopped in the Central Minnesota area. This author has been told by an inmate that Hart has admitted participating with "Bloom" in several encounters with young boys. These encounters happened all over Stearns County and led to the arrest of Bloom in 1989 for trying to obtain from an undercover cop the sexual favors of a 12 year old girl. The arrest of this "Bloom" and trial are to have happened around the same time as the Wetterling abduction. Indeed, this author has heard from more than one inmate that Hart and Bloom were in the Stearns County jail together and were both questioned as suspects in abduction. Duane Hart has, Wetterling according to his information, stated to the Stearns County Investigators that this "Bloom" is the person responsible for Jacob Wetterling's death. Hart has told several inmates, and his story has never changed, that he can "see" being there at the Tom Thumb store the night of the abduction.

WHAT DUANE HART "SEES":

The following information has been given to this author by two inmates who have recently been in the presence of Duane Hart at Stillwater. The inmates wish to remain anonymous and have both stated to this author that their information has not been altered or changed in any way. At least one of these inmates could possibly be gay and could have had a sexual relationship with Hart while at Stillwater. Both inmates have since been transferred to Faribault where they were approached by this author for their individual stories. Both inmate's facts have been printed here without any alteration or change by this author.

Hart states that Bloom is in construction and knows how to dig and bury things. Hart also states that Bloom has to get rid of the Ninja suit the radio because the Investigators are looking for evidence (In a related note, Hart has also mentioned to one inmate that the Ninja suit and the radio are in possesion Investigators and they have questioned Hart as to their origin. Hart has told this inmate only that he himself owned the items in question but did not state this fact to the investigators!)

Followup after Oct. 22nd:

After the apparent killing of Jacob Wetterling, Hart maintains that Bloom kept his encounters going until he tried to deal with an undercover cop in St. Cloud for a 12 year old girl. Accoding to Hart, this deal was supposed to have taken place near 25th Ave. North in St. Cloud. Hart says that Bloom was arrested and charged with the crime. Hart also says that he was also arrested and charged with a crime but has never told anyone what that crime was. However, he has stated to one inmate that the youg person he had sexual encounters with was supposed to have been 16 but that the young boy had lied about his age and Hart had to take the "rap" for it. Hart also maintains and has also told the inmates and this author that Bloom talked with him him in jail and told him that he (Bloom) had killed Jacob and had buried him. Hart says that Bloom asked him how long thick plastic would last in the ground and Hart supposedly told him 10 years. Hart told both inmates and this author that soon after Bloom talked with him, they were bo th separated by Jail personnel and each placed in a different cell area. Hart maintains that they were separated because authorities suspected Bloom in the Jacob case. However, Hart does also say that he also was questioned about the abduction. Hart says that when he was questioned by the authorities he tried to tell them about Jacob and he also tried to strike up a deal on his charge but that the authorities in his words "would not believe him". Hart also told this author and the two inmates that he went back to the Tom Thumb store in St. Joseph about two weeks after the incident and tried to tell store personnel and customers that he knew something about the Jacob Wetterling case. However, Hart says that the people in the store ignored him.

It should be noted here that this author also witnessed statements from Hart at Stillwater and these statements have been included in the following report. This author has tried in this report to state only the FACTS not the opinions of the two inmates responsible for some of the information.

According to information...supplied by Hart, on the evening of October 22, 1989, though he is not in the companionship of "Bloom" he can still "see" Bloom and can see him at Tom Thumb in St. Joseph. He can see Bloom there to pick up a young boy for an encounter. Hart "sees" many people at this store and can see the truck of Bloom's which Hart maintains he "sees" as tan in color. Hart "sees" three young boys on bikes come to the store and "sees" them buy some items and then leave. Hart notices that Bloom has taken an interest in the boys and has followed them. He "sees" Bloom come out of a ditch or incline dressed in a Ninja suit approaching the boys. There is conversation and Bloom takes one of the boys and puts him in truck (NOTE: HART HAS NEVER SAID HE SAW BLOOM POLLOW THE BOYS IN HIS TRUCK, HOWEVER NOTE THAT HART REMEMBERS SEEING BLOOM'S TRUCK AT TOM THUMB). Hart "sees" himself on a road in back of Tom Thumb and he "sees" Bloom drive on by with a young boy in the truck. Hart maintains that he can "see" that it is Jacob Wetterling. Hart "sees" himself running after the truck to stop Bloom but the truck goes on out of town toward Paynesville. It is here that Hart "sees" Bloom have a sexual encounter with Jacob but plans to return Jacob to the Tom Thumb area after the encounter. However, Hart "sees" that Blcom has a two-way radio in his truck and over this radio hears that a young boy is missing. Hart "sees" Bloom kill Jacob so that he cannot identify the man who took him. Hart "sees" Bloom take Jacob's body and wrap it in plastic and bury it in a Sewage Drainage area in the city of St. Joseph. (Hart states that the body is buried at least 6 feet down and that it is not going to be found for a long time because it is wrapped in heavy plastic)

Ann Norlander, DDS 1553 Medical Arts Building Minneapolis, MN

Dear Dr. Norlander:

Enclosed you will find duplicate x-rays of Jacob Wetterling's teeth. Could you please compare Jacob's x-rays to the x-rays provided by Dr. Isaacson. Dr. Isaacson's staff contacted our department and advised a boy was treated by them, and that this boy looked like Jacob. Also, there were other indications that the boy may not be who the "parents" say he is. If the boy is not Jacob, Hennepin County Social Services will be dealing with this matter.

After your examination is completed, please contact us and we will make arrangements to pick up the x-rays. As per our phone conversation, Dr. L. Carlson (St. Cloud) did compare the x-rays, but was unable to make an identification either way.

If there is a fee for your exam, please bill the Stearns County Sheriff's Department.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Respectfully,

Doug Pearce Chief Deputy

RE: comparison of x-rays of J. Wetterling "look-alike" with films of Jacob Wetterling

Dear Chief Deputy Pearce:

I spoke with Dr. Len Carlson regarding this comparison on 1/24/91 when Dr. Carlson contacted me by phone since he was unsure about excluding this possible match. You then contacted me later that day saying that you would deliver the two sets of x-rays for my examination sometime the following week.

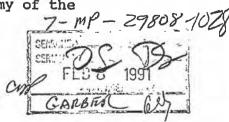

I received these x-rays from my office on 2/1/91. The first set of films was in an envelope from Dr. Brad S. Isaacson, D.D.S., 4831 Nicollet Avenue So., Minneapolis, MN, postmarked 1/18/91 and was labelled "x-rays of Boy who looks like Jacob." These x-rays consisted of two duplicate bitewing x-rays with no other name or date attached. The second set of x-rays (actually I was sent four identical sets of duplicate x-rays) was of two sets of two bitewings each, dated 7/26/88 and 10/13/89, labelled Jacob Wetterling.

Comparing these two sets of films, I came to the conclusion that the "x-rays of Boy who looks like Jacob" DO NOT MATCH the films of Jacob Wetterling and therefore CANNOT BE JACOB.

I base this conclusion on the following discrepancies: 1) Jacob's upper second bicuspids bilaterally are fully erupted in the 1989 films while the 1991 films show these same teeth in the process of erupting; 2) similarly the maxillary second molars bilaterally are fully erupted in the 1989 films while the 1991 "look-alike" films are only partially erupted (this process is not reversible and therefore makes this an immediate mismatch); and 3) the anatomy of the posteriors, all unrestored, although similar, is obviously dissimilar when comparing the coronal anatomy of the lower second bicuspids, the pulp chambers of the upper first molars, and the presence of different sized diastemas distal (behind) the upper cuspids.

Please don't hesitate to contact me if you have any questions regarding this comparison or any other dental ID questions in the future.

Sincerely

Ann L. Norrlander, D.D.S.

Dear S/A Sigafoos:

At your request, on March 6, 1991, Mr. GUSTAFSON was administered a Polygraph Examination to determine whether or not he was involved in the abduction of Jacob Wetterling on October 22, 1989.

Following approved and recommended procedures, GUSTAFSON was administered three polygrams, consisting of Relevant, Irrelevant and acceptable Control questions. Each question was reviewed with him prior to the examination.

Evaluation of the 3 Polygrams failed to reveal significant criteria that would indicate deception. Therefore, it is my opinion that GUSTAFSON was truthful when responding "No" to the following relevant questions:

- 1. Have you withheld any information about who did take Jacob Wetterling in 1989?
- 2. Did you have any physical contact with Jacob Wetterling on October 22, 1989?

RE: BCA CASE #89000535

NAME: Jarves Nicholes DEMUTH

DOB: 01-29-33

Dear S/A Sigafoos:

On February 12, 1992, Mr. DEMUTH was administered a Polygraph Examination to determine whether or not he was involved in the abduction of Jacob WETTERLING on October 22, 1989.

Following approved and recommended procedures, DEMUTH was administered three polygrams, consisting of Relevant, Irrelevant and acceptable Control type questions. Each question was reviewed with him prior to the examination.

Evaluation of the 3 Polygrams failed to reveal significant criteria that would indicate deception. Therefore, it is my opinion that DEMUTH was substantially truthful when responding "No" to the following relevant questions:

- 1. Did you have any physical contact with Jacob WETTERLING on October 22, 1989?
- 2. On October 22, 1989, did you take Jacob WETTERLING?
- 3. Do you know where Jacob WETTERLING is now?

My sincere thanks to the Stearns County Sheriff's Department for providing the case information necessary for the preparation of this examination.

Sincerely,

JOHN D. GUNDERSEN SPECIAL AGENT IN CHARGE

Jacob Wetterling Foundation P.O. Box 639 St. Joseph, Minnesota 56374-0639

Greetings:

We believe that we may be of assistance in effecting the return of Jacob Wetterling. In this letter, we are providing you the information we have obtained thus far, the manner in which we obtained this information, our recommendation for gaining additional and sufficient data needed to return Jacob to his family, as well as brief biographical descriptions of myself. Tom O'Donnell, and my associate Tom Dongo. We are offering this information with "no strings attached," but do ask that, if our efforts prove successful, that our anonymity be maintained and that we receive the advertised reward for Jacob's safe return.

I am a retired psychologist, having practiced and taught in Florida from 1980 to 1990. I relocated to Colorado last year. My practice in Florida (Manatee Testing and Counseling Services) continues to serve the Tampa Bay populace under several associates; among past and current associates are such well known and well thought of authors and practitioners as Herbert Boyd, Ph.D., retired full professor at the University of South Florida, and Edwin Barker, former psychology department chief at Harvard and The Ohio State University. After performing over 4,000 psychological evaluations, I grew weary of the normal work routine in 1990 and decided to investigate an old interest, parapsychological phenomenon. In the past year, I have assisted two paranormal investigators in publishing their research, one being Mr. Tom Dongo of Sedona, Arizona.

I have worked with Tom closely now for the past two years, and will testify to his utmost sincerity and professionalism. Tom has the most impressive clairvoyant ability that I have witnessed in regards to providing specific information on lost or abducted people, documents, or other materials.

Regarding the method in which he obtains the information, I would prefer to let him describe the process to you directly. The process does involve the obtaining of specific, sometimes remarkably clear mental pictures or visualizations of the individual and the surrounding environment. These visualizations nearly always include specific findings which tend to Dove useful in locating the missing individual or property, although we have found that the most extensive and useful set of findings is obtained by having Tom visit the location where the event occurred or the item was lost.

Of course, the phenomenon of clairvoyance is only beginning to be studied seriously and methodically in scientific investigations (e.g., Monroe Institute of Virginia). Personally and professionally, I believe that it offers a valid and at times surprisingly effective, but admittedly unorthodox, avenue of research or investigation. Much depends on the accuracy and integrity of the investigator, which is the reason why I am providing biographical sketches of Tom and myself.

Tom has authored two popular books on paranormal phenomena, and is in preparation of his third work. He has up until this point hesitantly become involved in a relatively small number of cases involving missing persons, for he holds some qualms about such involvement - as in having to ask for reimbursement or payment for his services. And, like myself, he shies away from publicity. In those cases which he has worked on, he has been uncannily accurate. Tom's work in solving several cases has in fact been cross-validated; he would be happy to provide documentation to this effect if you desire.

I would like to turn now to why we were interested in working on Jacob's disappearance. Recently I was in the Sheriff's Office in Durango, Colorado to fill out a complaint against a business which did not provide a service which I paid for when I saw Jacob's picture on the CrimeStoppers flyer. I received the impression that this would be an ideal case for Tom's involvement. Several days later, I met with Tom and he agreed to sit down and, for the next several hours, go through the process of clairvoyantly receiving impressions on the nature of Jacob's disappearance. He believes that the impressions are reasonably accurate - as in any case, however, he may prove to be "offbase" to at least a small extent. I believe such inaccuracy stems from the fact that clairvoyantly based impressions require a measure of interpretation or generalization which invites bias and distortion. However, we both feel that the following impressions are reasonably accurate. Unfortunately, they are not at this point exhaustive. A visit to Minnesota would be required to complete the process and provide an optimal chance to secure Jacob's return through these efforts.

I will now transcribe Tom's impressions as he received them.

- A white man and a white woman were involved in Jacob's kidnaping. The man is in his late forties or early fifties, and is slightly obese (portly) and has graying hair. The woman is thirty-five to forty years old, has dark hair, and is "hard-looking." She is of average weight but has poor posture (i.e., leads head forward).
- Jacob very globably remains in the northern Midwest area.
- The man and the woman who abducted Jacob appear to be involved in some type of devil or Satanic cult worship. There is a group associated with this worship, loosely based in the Midwest.

12TT-107

- Jacob at this time has shoulder length hair and an unkempt appearance. Drugs and intimidation are involved to prevent his escape from this couple or group. He is allowed to move about, but he is fearful to expose his abductors and has actually, over time, become involved in the activities of this cult.

- The man and the woman abductors are members of a cult of about twenty to thirty members which are spread out through the middle and upper-middle Midwest.

- The man and the woman have a natural child, probably eight to ten years of age at this time. We think this child is a girl.

- The man drives a late model car, perhaps a Chevrolet having a yellowish color.

- The man's profession may be in some type of sales or distribution of hard goods. He travels in this line of work.
- The group has a cult name (one word), which sounds Arabic. The name seems to have twelve or more letters in the title. A bit more work will be needed to definitively ascertain this name. It would be helpful if you could check with a police investigator well-versed in cult names Tom might then more easily pinpoint the exact name through a "multiple choice" format although it is also possible that this cult may not yet be known by the police.
- Jacob is in reasonably good health and is reasonably safe at this time. As mentioned, he has changed in terms of appearance, values, and personality due in large part to the necessity of surviving in his captivity.
- We must note a disturbing impression received by Tom. Group members of this cult have in the past killed five or six, or more, children who would not cooperate with them. But, to reiterate, Jacob, after two and a half years of captivity, appears to remain reasonably safe. Tom's accuracy in defining whether an individual is currently alive, through meditation upon the individual's photograph, has proven extremely reliable.
- There were more impressions received by Tom that pertain to Jacob's abduction by this group, but I believe they should be deferred at this time as they do not have a direct impact upon effecting Jacob's release.
- We would like the opportunity to visit Jacob's hometown area and pursue this case through to a successful completion. We believe that there exists a reasonably good chance of obtaining Jacob's release through these efforts, but as previously mentioned it would be necessary to visit the locale to receive the clearest, accurate, and most useful impressions. A variety of maps, personal articles, and perhaps other materials would need to be available if we journeyed to your home town to complete this investigation.

We do not ask for payment for our services, but only for reimbursement of our travel-related expenses (airfare, lodging, meals). We would be happy to travel coach class and stay for the several days in an inexpensive hotel, or even within a household to further reduce costs. If our efforts prove successful in locating Jacob and bring him home safely, and we believe that this is a viable possibility at this point, then we would accept the advertised Crimestoppers reward.

Regarding our schedule, both of us would be available to fly into St. Joseph during upcoming weeks (I must be in Grand Junction, Colorado on the third Friday of April). A several day stay should be sufficient to complete the investigative process. Flights tend to be cheapest if one flies out of Phoenix, Arizona (we would prefer Continental Airlines), with tickets purchased at least two weeks in advance.

We hope that the information provided to you in this letter can be of help. Once again, we would be enthused to join you in Minnesota to provide much more definitive information and, most hopefully, secure Jacob's release.

You may telephone me (Mountain Standard Time) at (303) 247-7860; fax materials can be sent through this number as well. My address is: 210 Sage Road Durango. Colorado 81301. I am in regular consultation with Tom, who resides in Sedona, Arizona.

To whom I may concern,

I know these people that moved here a few years ago maybe three years ago. My chold played at their house alot and I was around enough to become suspicious of the portants because of the things that were said there. I took pictures of the girls playing on my porch and they were polarorde and I gave them to the mother that day and . She was questioning me "how many did you take" in a way she was worried I was sending them in to missing child organization. Then the older boy never seems to get to close to adults so I can't see him very good but he looks like Jacob Wetterling. One day I was there at the house and she said . If Jacob wants to be a part of this family he better start doing things to help. The way she soud it was like he was a new member of the family and the might have to go back or samething if he didn't try to help around. This Lady has three children only the middle one a boy looks like her the others are completely different. She also acts like she is hoding something. When I list meet her she wasn't sure they were staying the Guilford she seeld they didn't know if it was going to work out here. They finally bought a house and stayed. Also she told me she was from Minnesota. May be GAA JUT

a year later I saw her husband at the local fair and we were talking about it and he said "they still have these at the Minnesota fair." I said your from Minnesota; he said "Oh! this is a long time ago," like he said it as though he said it by accordent and did not want to talk about it any more. At there home there no paloy protures on the wall of the two children that do not look like her, only pictures of the middle son that looks liter her. The little girl was at my house once and told . me she had a sister in Ealifornia. I asked her mother and she sould no. This little girl docen't make up stories as ce rule so I got me thinking again. I wish somebody would check this family out for me and let me know SO I can put my mind to rest. I would go to the police in my town but these small town police departments do not know how to handle things, they might just decide I am overthinking.

This may not be Jacob but he is somebody elses I thinks. My day gitter is 7 she thinks he lostes like Jacob Watterling and she has seen him alot more than me.

Dr. Jerry Wetterling c/o The Wetterling Foundation 29422 Kiwi Ct. St. Joseph, Minnesota 56374

Dear Jerry,

I just talked to Tom, who reviewed with me his findings from a session with Arthur Fanning. Arthur is one of the best-loved channels in Sedona, and one we both highly respect for his integrity, accuracy, and spiritual focus.

The findings "confirm" that Jacob is being held either in or very near Elmdale. A barn is used for this purpose. We will uncategorically state this conclusion.

I feel caught in a bind, of sorts, between sharing specific information from our conclusions (information that may directly or indirectly point to specific residences and people) while avoiding the unjust implicating of others. For example, we feel strongly that the residence we spent much time near, in Elmdale, is a critical site. However, by sharing this impression, which could be incorrect (it could be a residence in close proximity), we may be doing an injustice to those living there if they subsequently suffer any form of harassment or a compromising of their reputation. This is why it is critical for you to assure confidentiality (for your eyes only) with this information, although we realize the necessity of sharing sufficient data with select authorities so that leads can develop. As practitioners you and I, we are well-versed in confidentiality considerations and thus I am sure you will use your best judgment with the impressions we give to you, while also making most efficacious use of them to secure Jacob.

Jerry, there are some things going on behind the scenes (in a spiritual sense) in regards to Jacob's prolonged abduction that are critically important although most people would not be open to their consideration. It is difficult to describe them without heavily utilizing metaphysical concepts. What we would like to do is, after Jacob is released (and he will be returned to you soon), sit down with you and explain the broader aspects and reasons behind seemingly senseless, vicious actions that have victimized Jacob and his family. I hesitate to use metaphysical or spiritual concepts at this point, but will take the chance and suggest to you that a karmic debt is being repaid through this terrible tragedy. The good news is that the debt is about to be paid-off in full, which at that point allows for quite a break-through in the situation. In our view of this situation, there were both higher (and lower!) forces involved in Jacob's abduction.

In the last few days, we have become more aware as to our role in the service we are providing for Jacob. We feel that we are catalysts, laying a foundation for a successful resolution now that "it is permitted." I wish I could speak in more detail, but Tom D. stresses that too much sharing of information (even to me!) might upset the applecart and actually hinder achieving Jacob's return. I certainly trust his convictions and will abide by them.

And so I would like to offer my summary remark, something that we are trying to follow as well: Jacob will be released soon; there is a great deal of activity on a higher plane leading up to this, and a bit more patience is needed for the process to naturally conclude into a most fantastic resolution.

Direct your thoughts (as I am sure you have been doing) toward visualizing such a resolution - of Jacob's return, and a final ending to what a handful of misguided people are doing to others. They too need to be released, from their old, victimizing patterns. There is great momentum now surrounding this dilemma, and directing one's thoughts (or energy) toward positive visualization can only expedite the process and assure a resolution.

God Bless You,

Tom O'Donnell

Dr. Jerry Wetterling c/o The Wetterling Foundation 29422 Kiwi Ct. St. Joseph. Minnesota 56374

Dear Dr. Wetterling:

This letter, co-authored by Tom Dongo and myself, Tom O'Donnell, summarizes our findings from the past week's investigation of Jacob's whereabouts and the nature of the abduction, as well as work previously accomplished.

We believe that the impressions, received clairvoyantly as well as through the use of remote viewing, are in large-part accurate. We offer this qualifying statement knowing that, with such subjective tools, certain phenomena may be interpreted inaccurately or perceived in a distorted or incomplete manner. For example, if in a remote viewing session Tom visits an area on a cloudy, dreary day, the area could be interpreted as more drab or having a lower socio-economic standing than it actually enjoys. Mis-perception leads to mis-interpretation. We thus advocate for a flexible, liberal interpretation of the impressions offered. But nevertheless, if even fifty percent of our impressions are basically accurate (and we firmly believe that this estimate is reasonable), adequate follow-up investigation by the authorities should lead to identification of the abductor and location of Jacob.

Our hope is that, after your review of these findings, you will then turn them over to the appropriate agency such as the F.B.I. We look forward to being interviewed by an investigator, and can provide greater detail and clarification. By then, several weeks down the road, we also will have additional impressions gleaned from several consultations with other reliable clairvoyants.

What excites us over these impressions is that many of them were cross-validated by three reputable clairvoyants; major impressions (e.g., Elmdale locale; car currently driven by the abductor) were supported in this way.

As you know, during our own investigation in Minnesota we concluded that one should at this time reach the primary goal (i.e., $\mathcal{L}$)cob's return) through locating Jacob's abductor. As will be noted in the following paragraphs, substantial identifying information was obtained which, if at all accurate, should lead to this man's apprehension. Although it is not our place to suggest the course of the authorities' efforts, we feel that if the abductor (whom we will term "Rambo" in the following discussion) can be located, he should be followed and his every movement scanned over at least a several week period. The reason for this is also explained in the following paragraphs, but in summary it stems from our belief that Jacob is being moved around among various cult members. Tracking both the business and personal travel movements of "Rambo" should provide the most complete listing of cult houses one of which we feel houses Jacob at this very moment.

We now will turn to the findings. Once again, we wish to qualify the impressions in that there will be a level of accuracy in terms of percentage. Some findings will be on the mark, some will be mildly distorted, and some may be inaccurate. In addition, some findings may make no sense at this time, but may prove valid later on when the puzzle is better completed. Do not discount our entire work if, in the initial stage of the authorities' follow-up, some of the impressions are not supported.

Rather than present a day-by-day, chronological log of our impressions and findings, we would rather address the problem by categorizing the data in terms of "The Abductor," "Jacob," "The Cult," and "Miscellaneous." In this format, we can most quickly add new impressions (and the upcoming data may indeed be most useful) and most easily revise this original report.

We were blessed with excellent photographs, which are presented in Appendix A. The photographs are referenced by number in the discussion, and reflect most important sites related to Jacob's whereabouts, his abductor, and cult activity. In addition, Appendix B lists various sketches created by Tom D., although he qualifies that he is not an artist and as such has omitted detail.

In addition, enclosed is a tape recording of excerpts from our investigation. Side A pertains to narrowing down and finally "zeroing-in" on Jacob's whereabouts, in the Elmdale area, while Side B largely pertains to information received on "Rambo" and the nature of the cult.

We desired to communicate our impressions as specifically as possible, even to the point of pointing to actual homes which seem to hold significance. However, we do not want any innocent, uninvolved people to suffer in any way because of our impressions, and therefore request that these impressions (e.g., farm home in Elmdale) be held confidential and shared only with the proper authorities.

We will begin by discussing the man who made the strongest clairvoyant impression upon us - the abductor whom we call "Rambo."

WTT-108

The Abductor

"Rambo" may actually be known as "Bill," although to some who know him well he is called "Willy." We feel certain about this impression. His last (surname) name is causing us difficulty but we are working more on this now and may have a better impression in the days ahead, particularly as we consult with other clairvoyants. Tom's impression at the time was - perhaps - "Hawkins," "Hughes," or Hawks." Of course, with any information involving letters or digits, one should allow for gross approximations.

Rambo is a soldier of fortune who likes to dress up during his personal time in battle fatigue and play out very sick fantasies. He surrounds himself with guns, knives, razors, and many other weapons. There are even explosives in his home - Tom Dongo can clarify the nature of these explosives during the interview. Rambo has ways of obtaining these weapons - some of them having been stolen from what appears to be an armory or munitions center.

He was in the military, and this fact allows a feasible means of identifying this man. During the Vietnam Era, he was being trained in some form of special forces such as the Green Berets. He was being trained to be dropped from behind enemy lines for very specific (elite) chores. was being trained in the technology of killing, which he appears to have cherished. Cherished too much, in fact, for during some form of training exercise (being conducted here in the states, it appears) Rambo went over the edge and killed a fellow soldier in mock combat. We believe this soldier, his first victim, was Black, which may help to identify Rambo through records. By all means check on dishonorable discharges of those white individuals during the Vietnam Era who killed a fellow U.S. soldier during special training. You should find him there.

He was booted out of the military due to this incident, and received a dishonorable discharge.

Although I am tempted to offer a psychological discourse into this sick individual. I think it would be premature at this point. Suffice to say, "Rambo" suffers from extreme psychopathology, and most psychiatrists would indeed diagnose him as paranoid schizophrenic. Much of the conflict pertains to his confused sexual identity as well as to abuse inflicted upon him as a youth. On the one hand, he cherishes the "macho" image as typified by the Rambo figure. But this image Conflicts with his homosexual, pedophilic impulses. He relates to women poorly and with great ambiguity, and is not married.

He drinks heavily, in public settings, and loses his otherwise very controlled, cautious nature during bouts.

He likes to brag and to "show-off" at these times in front of others, and may unsettle those who see him in this condition.

The abductor travels a great deal within perhaps a one hundred mile radius of the St. Cloud area, although his employer is not centered in St. Cloud. We believe that he actually lives, and/or that his employer is in, a St. Paul suburb (i.e., between St. Cloud and St. Paul). Clearly, he drives a yellowish, full-size General Motors car - most likely a Chevrolet. This car either is his own or is owned by his employer. He uses it to travel for business, and on this note we touch upon the second, very convenient avenue for identifying the man (if our impressions prove accurate!).

We see the abductor either selling, servicing, or leasing equipment that is used on farms. Wheels, not large ones, make an indelible impression. We infer that the equipment might be sprayers, tillers, small tractors, or similar farm-related implements. Or, perhaps he distributes tires or wheels, since our impression of his business mainly concerned wheels. As mentioned, he travels throughout central Minnesota frequently, representing his business.

On his yellow, full-size Chevrolet (year 1985 to 1988) was seen a sign signifying his company. It has a company logo on it, found on the left side, which in part is spherical. The sign is approximately 10 inches by 28 inches, and has a dark brown inner border and a tan sign body. Tom may be able to get a better impression of it by trying again to draw it. He had received an impression of "Crain Distributors" (perhaps Crane or Krane), although we could not find this name in the yellow pages upon cursory investigation. And, this was a weak impression, suggesting less reliability. Letters and numbers prove difficult to reliably ascertain clairvoyantly.

We believe that he has a two-way radio, a cellular, or similar communications equipment in his car.

We seems to always wear sports coats that are loose on him. We must also stress that he ALWAYS carries a weapon. Tom D. clearly saw a 9 mm Lugar pistol, held in some type of shoulder or body strap. The loose sports jacket would conveniently hide such a weapon. The abductor dresses casually in this manner while making his distribution or representative rounds. His favorite color is beige/brown.

"Rambo" is as bald as a billiard ball. What hair is left, in the back and sides, is blondish or light brown. He has either blue or gray eyes - they are not dark. He appears to be of northern European (German?) heritage.

This man is accurately represented by the two portraits in one of the Jacob posters. They are in fact one man - the one we refer to as Rambo (as will be noted later, the abductor in the Cold Spring incident is the same man who abducted Jacob). Rambo actually has a more rounder face than in the portrait. His age is 46 or 47. He is 5'8' to 5'10' in height. He is slightly overweight, but tries to keep in shape by lifting weights. There was one indication that he has or at one time had a heard.

Rambo is a white supremacist, and hates Blacks and other minorities. We suspect that the man he killed in the military, through unwarranted force, was a Black. We find that it is an interesting coincidence that Dr. Wetterling was known to be championing the cause of civil rights at the time of Jacob's abduction - particularly in light of the Albany connection with the abductor (the 511 Lake Avenue house which appears somehow connected, albeit indirectly, with this man is within several blocks of Dr. Wetterling's Albany office). More on this later.

He may have a scar or tattoo on his left arm.

It appears that he was abused or mistreated as a child.

We wish to note that this man will not be taken alive if he has anything to say about it. Like "Rambo," he would prefer to go out in a blaze of macho glory if cornered. The authorities will need to be really prepared when they apprehend him.

Jacob Wetterling

We received as many distinctly strong impressions of Jacob as on the abductor, and thus we are confident that much of the following data are reliable.

First of all, he is alive at this time. There is no question about this, given the nature of Tom's consistently strong impressions. He can clarify this with the FBI representative at the anticipated interview.

He is not called Jacob by the abductor or the other members of the cult. He is likely called "Johnny."

Interestingly, the abductor ("Rambo") did not intend to keep Jacob at the time of the abduction. There was a likelihood that it would have mirrored the brief Cold Spring abduction and molestation. Then why was he held? The abductor seemed to quickly develop a personal interest in Jacob. He liked him, and Jacob was sufficiently adaptive to "play the game" to assure survival.

LATT-111.

Jacob was immediately taken to a house having some connection with this cult. Drugs were given to him (standard procedure for the cult's abductions) immediately. Like the weaponry referred to earlier, Rambo or a cohort seems to have some connection with a military source in securing these drugs. It seems to be a mild pain killer, and makes the child passive, docile, and unable to escape or resist. The drug thus is used essentially for controlling the victim. Jacob was kept in a room for about a year initially after the abduction. This prolonged isolation, combined with the drugs, the sexual abuse, and other vicious mind games promulgated by the cult, essentially breaks the victim's will - which is of course the intent. A strange form of identification with the abductor and other cult members has developed in Jacob, in effect surrogating his biological family. As an example of this identification, we find that Jacob wears the type of loose-fitting jacket that his abductor favors. Tom has a clear impression of his clothing as well as what Jacob currently looks like, which is one of the reasons why we are certain he is alive at this time.

Jacob is moved around frequently among the various cult homes. He spends a lot of time, however, with an older couple who also have taken a liking to him. This couple is not as vicious as other cult members, but they are indeed sick. The older man occasionally likes to bed down with either Jacob or one of the other boys held by the cult.

Jacob was seen clairvoyantly riding around the countryside in an older (early 80's), rust-colored pick-up truck (probably a Ford, as the front is square or rectangular-shaped) with this older man. The older man appears to be in his 50's or (more likely) 60's. farmhouse is not big, but not small either - just relatively modest. This older man, and what appears to be his wife (she may be hunchbacked; there is a hunchbacked woman who is somehow involved in this) go along with the cult activities although they are not the major leaders of it - most definitely the Rambo character is due to his extremely forceful, controlling, potentially violent personality. Like other cult members, this older couple is totally intimidated by Rambo for they know he would kill at the drop of a hat to assure cult secrecy. The older couple has a son who is involved in pedophilia.

Photos # 7 & 8 of Appendix A portrays the older model, rust-colored pick-up truck which may be the vehicle in question. It was parked at the Stewart farm in Elmdale, which correlates with many other indications we have received which point to Elmdale as a most important cult activity spot (and a likely spot where Jacob is held!).

Photos # 1 through 4 reflect the Elmdale farm in question. Photos 5 & 6 record an unimproved, wooded lot (apparently part of the Stewart farm) where we detect the strongest signals. On this lot, Tom D. received the impression that an individual was murdered here - hit on the head by a larger individual.

Jacob was seen performing various chores around a farm, which appears to be have either feed cattle or dairy cattle. At this time, he enjoys a degree of liberty as rapport has developed between he and the cult members who house him. He is very thin, lanky, walks somewhat awkwardly, and has long, oily hair. He appears in fairly good health, but does not eat well and, emotionally, is understandably on thin ice. Tom D. has drawn a sketch of his current appearance which can be found under Illustration # 1 of the Appendix B.

While it appears that "Rambo" resides in the suburbs (as previously noted, a St. Paul suburb is suspected) but frequently travels into the country for his business, Jacob is kept at least primarily in a country setting. firmly believe that he spends some of the time in the Elmdale area, perhaps on the Stewart home. The focal point of clairvoyant "energy" consistently is detected on the Stewart farm. One of the most well-supported (from a clairvoyant basis) and important points we can make is to check out thoroughly this Morrison County Farm and its residents/visitors. It may hold an important key to cracking the cult and returning Jacob. Indeed, Jacob may spend time here. In one impression received, five cult members (likely one or two families) were noted in the Elmdale area.

The Cult

The abductor "Rambo" is the moving force of this cult. It actually is hidden within a fundamentalist German religion; we advise checking on unusual or "fringe" religious groups in Morrison and Stern Counties whose beliefs originate in the old country.

While it is a fundamentalist religion, there is a most twisted nature to this cult group. While it could not be considered Satanic in nature, it does share similarities. But pedophilia is a major focus, at least among part of the religious group who constitute this cult. Incidentally, the cult is found in three northern midwestern states (Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin).

Some of the adherents to this religion are well-regarded people. However, townspeople and neighbors generally know there is something not quite right about these cult members. They are "leery" of them, and generally leave them alone. Rambo, in his business dealings, may appear appropriately but often people think he is a bit weird particularly in his sarcastic, strange sense of humor.

Interestingly, when in the Elmdale saloon one afternoon I made several innocuous inquiries about family names as part of my "genealogy" search, and the Stewart name was brought up to the woman tending the bar. She had been quite friendly up to that point, but after acknowledging that there was a Stewart family in Elmdale ("Joe Stewart") she noticably became uncommunicative and moved to the other end of the bar, avoiding any further conversation. My training as a psychologist tells me that the Stewart name was loaded with hidden, negative meaning for this woman. On several counts, we feel there is something quite significant about the Stewart family and/or homesite in relation to the Jacob case.

Jacob is being held and "cared for" by members of this cult. He even is receiving a form of schooling in the homes, although he certainly does not attend school.

This religion does not have a formal church or chapel; meetings are held at cult members' homes. They get together for dinner and ritual.

Values held by this cult include white supremacy, Nordic superiority, and, even more bizarrely, sexual molestation of children (probably only or mostly male boys). large extent, the twisted influence of this Rambo character has perverted the traditional teachings/beliefs of the fundamentalist religious group. The abusive practices of the cult members have been incorporated into the religion. Impressions of bondage, slavery, sexual abuse, and sacrifice were received. While some of the children abducted and abused mature into actual cult members themselves by young adulthood (and, in fact, this is a "recruitment" goal of the cult) those that are not "viable" or cooperative are sacrificed. Tom received clear impressions of violent death (including a definite murder occurring on the Stewart farm in Elmdale) associated with this group, and six, seven, or eight graves of abducted victims (mostly runaways who somehow ended up with this cult). We believe that Rambo is responsible for some or all of these killings. are in a wooded area. Although we found what strongly appeared as an unmarked grave on the Stewark) farm, digging down three feet did not uncover remains. But Tom D's "clairvoyant radar" consistently points to this wooded. vacant area of the Stewart land (Appendix A. Photos # 5 & 6) as extremely noteworthy, and if other impressions we are offering can be substantiated, more than a cursory exploration of this land would be in order. As mentioned

Tom clearly saw (psychically) a smaller person being clubbed by a larger person on this land. He can give clarification of this impression during interview.

We also note that "Rambo" actually has his own torture chamber, found in a cold, wet cellar, where he keeps a room full of devices. Some cult members, including "Rambo," are into sado-masochistic practices. Child pornography (including videos, which are disseminated among cult members) is also prevalent. When Rambo is found, the investigator will also find 1) weapons; 2) child pornography; 3) alcohol and drugs.

Chants and phrases make up the cult's ritualistic practices, which in ways are similar to a Satanic cult - but this is not a Satanic cult per se. The cult members seem to be under an unusual influence themselves - there is more information available on this issue, but we would rather not release it until our other impressions are (hopefully) validated.

The cult actively recruits for new "members," and they are generally gained through abduction although the growing runaway problem facilitates recruitment.

Rambo, in his business travel, goes to cult members' homes throughout central Minnesota and shares information on cult activities, recruitment, etc. Rambo is ALWAYS on the prowl for new recruits (i.e., potential abductees), and most likely would make the parent of a child quite uneasy if he were seen studying the youngster. This man is extremely calculated, forceful, and on guard. There is a strange charismatic quality about him in this regard, and it would be quite unlikely if a person would forget him.

When we first began working on this case. Tom received an impression of the cult name - it had about twelve letters (give or take) and sounded Arabic or mid-eastern. He has received no new impressions in this regard to date, and it may lack validity although we wished to mention it.

It could safely be said that all members of this cult are "nuts." Yet, without the protective influence of the aforementioned older couple (the couple whom we suspect reside in or near Elmdale) we doubt Jacob would be alive.

Miscellaneous Impressions

As with the Stewart farm in Elmdale (and possibly other sites in or near Elmdale - once again, this locale is most significant to Jacob's case!), a small, seemingly innocent home in Albany seems important although, initially, one would have to ask why. The home and immediate surroundings were clearly seen and sketched by Tom D. weeks ago during one of our preliminary sessions. Appendix B. Illustration # 2 lists the sketch.

The house and Tom's impression matches on nearly a dozen important points, including the projected house number (511 Lake Avenue)! However, apparently an elderly widow in her 80's named Mary Welters resides here (Appendix A, # 9 & 10: Appendix B. # 3). Our clairvoyant impression nevertheless argues that this house offers an avenue for finding the abductor, Jacob, and exposing the cult. know that "Rambo" is a son or nephew of someone who made a clairvoyant impression upon us. At this time, we suspect that Rambo is a relative to the elderly woman living in Albany at 511 Lake Avenue - perhaps a son or nephew. Interestingly, we were told that a man related to this woman (a son, as we recall) frequently travels to Elmdale, and is considered "weird" by the bartender informant. In addition, we find it interesting that this 511 Lake Avenue address is only a block or so from Dr. Wetterling's Albany office.

A most important but troubling point needs to be made at this time. From the beginning. Tom received numerous impressions that something was being hidden in this case that something was not quite right or on the level, so to speak. As these impressions kept being received, they evolved into an overall feeling that someone, a person perhaps connected with the Jacob cause or investigation, has withheld information that could have solved the case. It seems that someone (a man) is in a position of authority who is connected in some manner to this cult, and is exerting pressure on someone else (a woman) to withhold information. The person that is being or has been pressured appears to be a woman in her 40's (perhaps 43 years of age), blonde hair (natural or dyed), and relatively well-off financially. Tom D. would desire to speak to the investigator about this most definite impression. She might have been associated with the Jacob Foundation as a volunteer, although this is only an impression. But we are sure that someone matching this description has withheld information to help protect someone holding some influence in the community.

Our investigation took us to Cold Spring, where the impression was quickly made that "Rambo" had performed that abduction (as well as other molestations). The park area, near the closed-up brewery, is particularly noteworthy. The strongest impression of cult presence or past molestation(s) was felt near the intersection of Red River Avenue and 2nd St., in the park area adjacent to the school and church. There is molestation occurring here which may not be reported. The abductor seems to visit Cold Spring frequently. It is also possible that at least one cult member household resides in Cold Spring, for the impression was received that "Rambo" is not alone here in his activities. Albany and (most acutely!) Elmdale appear as more important sites, however, in regards to Jacob. Appendix A. # 11 shows the area adjacent to the brewery where molestation/abduction activity seems to have occurred, although this does not mean that it was reported to the authorities.

There is a woman, having very bad posture and who appears older than her years, who is involved in this situation. She knows "Rambo" and might be related to him. Initially we believed this woman to be the man's companion, but now are leaning toward the impression that she is the wife of another cult member, or perhaps Rambo's relative.

The town of Royalton may, like Elmdale and Albany, hold some significance in terms of a cult member living there. We were initially attracted to this town, with a focus upon a house located at 409 2nd St. (Appendix A, # 12). But toward the end of our visit, Albany and, particularly Elmdale, earned the strongest focus of interest. We suspect that Royalton does have some significance to the case, perhaps in a secondary capacity.

As our primary focus was directed at tracking the whereabouts of Jacob, but secondarily discerning the location of the abductor and related cult/molestation activity, we spent considerable time delineating a perimeter of the most intense activity. Appendix B, # 5 is a map reproduction showing this area. Note that Elmdale is the radial point, suggesting to us that this is the most relevant (for the purposes of returning Jacob) site.

A word needs to be said about the original abduction site in St. Joseph, near the Wetterling residence. It is quite "cold" at this time; (in the many months since Jacob's abduction, many clairvoyants or psychics have visited the site to conduct their own investigations. This process contaminates, so-to-speak, the energy associated with the original event and thus, at this time, an on-site visit proved of no value.

Summary Discussion

We believe that, if even a small percentage of our impressions gained of the abductor "Rambo" prove valid, the authorities should be able to identify him and then begin the process of following his movements. We believe that he will lead the authorities to where Jacob is currently being kept - in our strong opinion, Elmdale or near this small rural farming village. Elmdale, Albany, and what appears to be an outlying community near St. Paul are key sites related to the abductor's residence, his employer, a likely relative, Jacob's whereabouts, and other cult members.

We would appreciate being interviewed by the authorities at their earliest possible convenience. The interview can take place in Sedona, Arizona (or Flagstaff) where Tom Dongo resides - I will travel there for the meeting. Incidentally, we will be together on June 20th for a meeting in Flagstaff, in case the authorities could schedule a meeting on Friday, June 19th. By then, we will have additional impressions through interviews conducted with several well-thought-of clairvoyant colleagues and can share this updated information at that time.

If our impressions are verified and solid leads then develop, we would request that we be allowed to return to Minnesota and provide additional consultation. We feel that we may be of assistance at such a critical point, particularly in securing the safe return of Jacob but also in helping to guide the authorities toward as many cult member homes as possible.

We thank you for the opportunity of having been of some assistance, and appreciate the thoughtfulness received during our visit to Minnesota. We look forward to seeing you again soon.

Sincerely,

Tom O'Donnell

THE ABDUCTION OF JACOB WETTERLING

in the evening of October 22, 1989, in St. Joseph, Minnesota, Jacob Wetterling was abducted by a masked man with a gun while returning home from a convenience store. A half mile from the Wetterling's home, Jacob, 11, his brother Trevor, 10, and a male friend, 11, were riding their bikes home after picking up a movie, when a masked man came out of a driveway, ordered the boys to throw their bikes into the ditch, turn off their flashlight, and lie face down on the ground. The gunman asked each of the boys how old they were. After the boys responded, he instructed Trevor to run into the woods and not to look back or he would shoot him. Next the gunman turned Aaron over, looked into his face, and told him to run into the woods or he would shoot. As Trevor and Aaron were running away, they glanced back to see the gunman grab Jacob's arm. When Aaron and Trevor reached the wooded area, they turned around again and the gunman and Jacob were gone.

The boys ran to the Wetterling home where they told their story to the baby sitter who was taking care of their younger sister. The baby sitter called her dad and he called 911 and Jerry and Patty Wetterling. The police were at the scene within 6 minutes followed by St. Joseph fire fighters and about 35 officers from the Stearn's County Sheriff's Department, Tri-County Major Crime Investigation Unit and State Patrol. Two local FBI agents and five from Minneapolis were assigned to the case. A state helicopter equipped with a search light probed the nearby woods and fields.

The search continued the next day with officers from the Department of Natural Resources using all-terrain vehicles that combed the woods and fields within a 2 mile radius of the abduction site. Helicopters flew over a 25 square mile area. A bloodhound from Minneapolis was brought in and led officers to the tracks, confirming a hunch that the abductor had a car nearby.

On December 14, authorities searched for a man who abducted and sexually assaulted a Cold Spring (Minnesota) boy in January 1989. Details of the two incidents lead them to believe they may be linked. Some of the similarities in the Cold Spring abduction are: Cold Spring is only 10 miles form St. Joseph; the abductor threatened to use a gun when holding the Cold Spring boy; the abductor held the boy for over three hours and threatened the boy with the possibility of not releasing him; the abductor wore army boots with his pants tucked in during both abductions; and when he let the Cold Spring boy go, he threw him in a ditch. Today, the authorities are still searching for the man.

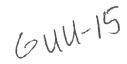

There have been numerous possible sightings of Jacob and his abductor all across the United States. Jacob's parents believe that Jacob is still alive and hope that with continued media coverage, someone will be able to provide them with information that could bring their son safely home.

Please help us bring Jacob home!

(Jacob Wetterling: D.O.B. 2-17-78; brown hair, blue eyes, mole on left cheek, slender build.)

Dear Agent Duma:

At your request, on October 15, 1992, Mr. BEDNAR was administered a Polygraph Examination to determine whether or not he was involved in the abduction of Jacob WETTERLING in October 1989.

Following approved and recommended procedures, BEDNAR was administered two polygrams, consisting of Relevant, Irrelevant and acceptable Control-type questions.

Evaluation of the 2 Polygrams failed to reveal significant criteria that would indicate deception. Therefore, it is my opinion that BEDNAR was truthful when responding "No" to the following relevant questions:

- 1. Were you in the St. Joseph/St. Cloud area any time on October 22, 1989?
- 2. Have you ever had any physical contact with Jacob Wetterling?
- 3. In October 1989, did you take Jacob Wetterling?
- 4. Do you know for sure just where Jacob Wetterling is now?

Thank you for providing the case information necessary for the preparation of this examination. If you have any questions or if I can be of any further assistance to you, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

This Official Seal of "La Villa Real de Santa Fe de San Francisco de Asıs" incorporates much of the history of the United States' Oldest Capital City that has had four flags fly over its venerable plaza.

The Shield depicts the castle from Onate who set up Spanish government in 1610, the Lion of DeVargas who recaptured the city from the Indians, the Mexican Eagle and Mexican Independence in 1821 and the occupation in 1846 by the United States. The Confederate flag flew briefly during the Civil War.

Today, Santa Fe is a successful blend of three cultures with a unique charm retained from its historic streets and buildings and yet a modern city of 50,000.

Commentary

During employment with Mediconic in 1994, I decided to sue the company for injust treatment e.g. Discrimination. This unjust treatment led to my severe depression and perhaps other psychological disorders. While pressing the law suit through the EEOC, I believe my former employer and/or law has decided to investigate me. I have been under some type of stealth investigation for adeast eighteen months. I have been followed and illegally drugged during the course of and prior to these events. These drugs have caused harmful side effects such as intermittent short term memory loss, long-term memory loss and/or recall and paranoid achizophrenia. The drug has a profound effect on my decision process. It creates disorientation with reality and may cause permanent damage with my system. It causes acute pain in the left superior region of the head and has given me discomfort in the left arm. I believe my former company or someone else have used my prior felony record to create suspicion with local and state legal authorities.

According to my recollection, I admit that I was psychologically imbalanced and under great discomfort because of the affects the drug caused. I admit of having a cocaine addiction in March and April of 1996, however being in custody Brookings County Jail, must have allowed my system to adjust to the lack of this substance, thus aiding me to quell the habit. I admit that I may have been accomplish to several kidnappings in Minnesota such as the David Wetterling case. I admit that several homicides may have been committed by my person because of the ill effects of these drug and do not recall or remember the incidents due to hamful or permanent side effects. I admit that I was in no control of my mental facilities at the time this crime was committed and at present need professional help to determine what damages have been done to my psyche irresult of being illegally and unconstitutionally drugged without my permission. I admit there may now be a flaw in my character before and after these events due to the unlawful use of control substances by me and others that give them to me without my knowing. I admit there may be other crimes committed during the course of this eighteen month stealth investigation to destroy my character family, social and Spartan life style.

Daniel Mielke, you now have the sum total of my recollections. On this day of Monday 8 July, 1996, I am of sound mind and body, for presently and perhaps temporarily not under the influence of the unknown compound stated earlier in this commentary.

Dear Doug:

I have received your letter requesting investigative assistance from the Montana Criminal Investigation Bureau (MCIB) in regard to the Jacob Wetterling kidnaping, which occurred in your county in October 1989. I have assigned this case MCIB case number MC 97-02-01 and have asked Agent Ward McKay to assist your department. Agent McKay will be available to assist with any follow up investigation which is required in Montana.

I had the opportunity to meet Detectives Chuck Olson and David Nohner from your department, as well as Dennis Fier with the Minnesota Department of Public Safety while they were in Billings. I hope that the information which was gathered while they were in Montana will help solve this case.

If I or anyone from my agency can be of further assistance, please feel free to contact me in the Helena office at (406) 444-3874.

Sincerely,

SENATOR PAUL WELLSTONE 2550 UNIVERSITY AVENUE West Suite 100 North St. Paul, Minnesota 55114

Dear Senator Wellstone:

I am writing this letter to you and for now, I want my name kept secret and the issue I will go into kept secret only between your office and myself till I personally have the opportunity to inform you of my concerns and I trust you will talk to me before you contact any law enforcement agencies.

I feel there is an obstruction of justice in two kidnapping cases. I know a witness who has had some valuable information to a kidnapping case and a few years back, he did contact law enforcement and gave them some valuable information that was important to the kidnappings. We feel they did not act properly with the information they were given and have withheld information from the victims family. The witness that I know, kept quiet for years, and just this past year, I got involved with him and we did some investigation of our own, and we contacted a law enforcement agency and infomed them of some things we felt were important to possibly solving a case.

We feel there is an obsturction of justice, and possibly a cover up, and we do not understand why. We were told we would be kept informed and we were told we would be given photos of possible suspects to itentify, only to be shut out, and we feel lied to.

Whenever I called an investigator to talk about the case or cases and give them information, I was given the run around, and they did not get back with us or keep us informed. We have given them many opportunities, and they have not responded in any way.

We have been harassed, my telephone has been bugged, we have been followed. We do not understand why. We only offered them information to help possibly solve a case. Some things that law enforcement agencies have said and done to us are uncalled for. I will tell you when we meet with you and you will be shocked.

I was going to try to get into contact with ATTORNEY GENERAL JANET RENO, but was told to go thru your office first. I am a concerned citizen, who only offered some information to help possibly solve a kidnapping, only to be harassed, and ignored and be deceived by law enforcement.

I appreciate your attention in this matter. Please help! Thank you.

Hi Patty,

So good to speak with you this morning. Thanks for the feedback on Still Missing. I can't tell you how good it feels to know that Still Missing is of use to you.

Enclosed are two more copies for your use. I'll replace them with the final version after I've had a chance to make the fixes.

I called and left a message with Linda Bender, asking her to send you a copy of the newspaper article with the profile. I know she won't mind me giving you her phone and address. If you don't receive the article soon, you may want to call/write her.

Linda Bender P.O.Box 52 Vancouver, WA 98666 360.699.1318

I called and spoke with Cheri Nolan. She asked me to send two copies so that John can review one and his partner, Lance, can review the other. I'm sending them today. My hope is that Fox TV might be interested in broadcasting the program nationwide. If you can get a good word to John, that would be terrific. Thank you again for the referral.

I'll be in touch soon, after I speak with Mike Medaris, regarding other possibilities. Until then, I wish you and your family only the best.

Warmly,

Theresa Tollini

Robert M. Pratt -1600 N. Drive, Box 591 Sioux Falls, SD 57117-5911

Station Manager KSFY Studio 501 S. Phillips Sioux Falls, SD 57102

Dear Station Manager

Perhaps you could discuss this with Loctor Whittle as he has seen me as a patient February 19, 1991. He was very personable. I believe I have a gift! Its described as being sensitive to the unrest of those who have given up their earthly tents in biblical reference.

Twice after visiting the Christian Missionary Bible College west of Minneapolis we returned to South Dakota. I was with my family. I remember a young man because he looked at me differently for some reason. When I observed this the words I probably spoke were, how are you tonight. Acknowledged he continued to look. We went our way and I left feeling it was curious politeness as I couldn't read his mind.

Some weeks ago there was an interview with the grieving mother of Jacob Wetterling searching for anything about her missing son. Its to help and if its not received understanding the emotional experience of these things, please just rip it up! Otherwise you will offend me because its by compassion that I dared through prayer to be allowed a relationship with Jacob's spirit.

Did he frequent a convenience store and could it have an entrance facing west?

Did he play hacky sack and did he keep company with someone who drove a van?

If so was it poorly painted primer colored?

Did he ride a horse and if so was it in a North Westerly direction of a frequented convenience store?

Tell her about the horse, she'll know what your talking about! I,m fine, but afraid because he knows things that she, his mother doesn't. "my dad"

After you aired there was prayer and his, a spirit of relief, peace and "don't tell my mom" as he didn't want her upset. It was through prayer that I asked if I should write the station and this was the response.

Its a sacred area that can be and is upsetting to myself and other spirits who do have and care for peace they were to have. With faith believing the principalities could be battled through gcdI asked if Jacob needed to speak and it was gods will I was sensitive. There was a here and now spiritual presence and a portal of a unknown place.

Jacob said, I can lead you there. But, I didn't know if it was a physical place or where the principalities: prevent the truth to be knownin unrest.

That place is very dark, blackness and I became afraid to see what was there. His spirit wasn't the only one there and that is the sense of unrest of others who some way console him. This followed prayer ending near 2:00 am the 10 ch. Then it was, Tell her about the horse...

I'm sorry there were remains in very weakening darkness. The unrest it creates sets in motion additional influences which can't be distinguished easily from deceptions from what god allowed and the evil which goals to deliver you there. Its very difficult to feel sanctification after especially here.

The following was a portal to a place. Others, who searched may know the place.

There was a place with many leaves of falk, dry so that a breeze seperated them and revealed the ground.

Two men in work clthing sitting sitting next to a building, There could be a bench and at their feet was a oval hole. It was eighteen inches by four feet. It seems there was not dirt beside the hole. Then digging and sitting. There was something in the hole, maybe Jacob in a fetus position.

There was a young boy in a building like a stable lying over some thing, not a low stall. It was wide like addle might be placed there or a saddle. His arms hung straight as if he were unconscious, lifeless. Looking towards the child there was no obstruction so that one could pass on his left side with no obstacle. Something protruded towards him from the right maybe a stall. A man came into view from his left and walked around behind him. There was something on the floor next to a wall behind the man. When the man was behind him, perhaps six to eight feet to the wall. Perhaps something, a hoop of wire. There was no shirt on the boy, the lower was obscured. The man was alone. There was no hoop of wire on the wall.

Seperately there was a another man a profile, with full dark near shoulder length hair, glasses, "my dad" He's not the one! He's upset if there is even slight inquiry which would make his dad scared or suggestive that his dad is any way treated having responsibility for what happened to his son.

Tolay & saw the enclosed clipping in the argue. I had two copies of the enclosed letter to the KSFY station manager. The one that is rippled is the most complete. In Tune I was prepared to send it to Roches Freeman, attorney - Iturn but didn't. Its so unusual and he just doesn't respond to me with great satisfaction. my mut sene it will help you a the I Bd, but soon the snow will fall. It Toseph is surely one of the towns we traveled through. The news article says the abductor may feel guilt. My our conscious is clear of m here for me the more of try to be holy, fasting there is turnail. Its in this prison over the last 100 t years guther and want to Keep me here. Its real creepy. Being a glutton and not caring how people express themselves does the opposite. More like ignoring rather once I described the commencements of my own situation being from Stod, It was mot also I contemplated trying to use any gift in this area as sacred. Its more sacrilizeous despite that perhaps it man help.

you may know I worked in renate creas of the California deserts and metros. Sometimes it seemed I was in touch with some unknown event that occurred. It was like the ground feeling unusual spongery under my feet compared to surrounding terrain.

If any of this helps contact rme. I don't know what else I am do on this. If there is something true about it, the corral area I don't know if being there would help-

To whom it may concern,

I was surfing the internet one day and I came upon a site about serial killers, kidnappers, etc. I clicked on a link to poems about or by killers. I came upon this poem called the Wetterling Abductor, I remembered when I was 11 yrs. old and I heard about Jake. It was flashed all over our news and everyone talked about it. I remember they even made a song about him. I guess I was interested because I was the same age at the time. I use to pray for Jake at night because I felt that if I got taken I would be so scared. Anyways, the reason why I am writing this letter is because this poem describes the day Jake was taken and it sounds like it was written by the abductor. At the end of the poem it just says Warlockman. I will send a copy and I'm not sure if this will help, but I have always wondered the past 9 years or so what ever happened to Jake? I would just like to add that this poem is not very pleasant so just to let you know, hopefully this is some fake thing somebody made up and Jake is still out there. Please let me know what you find out.

Letter to Friends and Constituents

Dear Friends of Saint John's,

The last months have been filled with painful stories about sexual abuse committed by priests and religious. The fact that the stories are most often about events which occurred years, even decades ago, does not diminish the anguish which so many members of the Catholic church are experiencing.

As you know well, allegations of sexual abuse were lodged against some monks of Saint John's Abbey in the 1980's and 1990's. As persons came forward, often after years of excruciating suffering, Saint John's responded with assistance to allow such persons to address the awful secret they had been living with and to remake their lives. At the same time the monastic community established clear policies requiring interventions with monks who were accused of being perpetrators. Every case was investigated promptly. If the accusations were credible, the accused were required to undergo treatment; and upon returning to their monastic community, they were allowed to work only in positions where others would not be vulnerable.

In the course of my first year as abbot, I have listened to victim's stories, and spoken with counselors and other leaders in the therapeutic community. The tidal wave of reflection going on within our Church led me more recently to review with our legal counsel every past settlement which Saint John's has made with victims. I want to ensure that those settlements are informed by the most recent knowledge we all have gained about the grievous pain associated with clerical sexual abuse.

In the process of this review, I have determined that one set of allegations, so far not made public even within the monastic community, needs to see the light of day for the sake of the integrity, healing and continued vitality of Saint John's Abbey.

In the late 1980's then Abbot Jerome Theisen received an allegation against former Abbot John Eidenschink by a former monk of Saint John's Abbey, who was abused for a significant amount of time both during and after his time in our community. Following our policy we offered funding for the settlement, which included counseling, legal fees, as well as a living stipend. According to policy, Abbot Eidenschink was removed from his responsibilities as the pastor of a parish and assigned as chaplain of a nursing home, a position in which no risk was ascertained.

In the mid-1990's another allegation against Abbot Eidenschink was made, again by a former monk of Saint John's Abbey. Funding for counseling and other expenses was part of the settlement.

Given that these abusive actions occurred within the monastic community and were in the past, the allegations against Abbot Eidenschink were never discussed openly within the monastery. Saint John's Abbey has been working hard over the last decade and a half to build healthier understandings of what is necessary to prevent the occurrence of sexual abuse and exploitation. Many commentators have observed that a culture of secrecy makes sexual abuse and exploitation possible. Therefore, I have determined that the monastic community and, you, a member of the larger Saint John's family, ought to know about these incidents involving a past leader of Saint John's.

Other allegations made against monks of Saint John's are a matter of public record and will be re-examined periodically by the media. Perhaps this is the only way our culture can reckon with the true pain caused by clerical sexual abuse. I ask you for your prayers as Saint John's Abbey works, with the rest of our beloved Church, to address the pain caused by sexual abuse and prevent such pain in the future.

Sincerely,

Abbot John Klassen, OSB April 19, 2002

Saint John's Abbey Policy

When a Monk has been Accused of Sexual Abuse or Sexual Exploitation

When considering sexual abuse or sexual exploitation by a monk, the Abbey maintains a primary concern for the victim's safety and wellbeing. Recognizing that the sexual abuse or sexual exploitation has tragic consequences for the victim as well as for the abuser, Saint John's Abbey adopts the following policy:

I. An Allegation

- A. The Abbot will investigate the allegation.
- B. The investigation normally will include:
  - 1. interview with the alleged victim
  - 2. interview with the monk
  - 3. interview with other knowledgeable persons
- C. The Abbot seeks appropriate advice.
- D. Based upon the investigation, the Abbot takes appropriate action which may include:
  - 1. intervention with the monk
  - 2. pastoral response to the victim
  - 3. notification of the proper civil authority such as police or child protection agency

I/96

4. distribution of a statement about the allegation.

II. Intervention with the Monk

A. The Abbot requests that the monk choose one other person, usually another monk, to be his support person and inform the Abbot who this person is. This is normally done when the Abbot informs the monk of the allegation.

B. Based upon the investigation, the Abbot decides whether or not to suspend the monk from his present duties.

C. Normally, the Abbot requires the monk to receive psychological evaluation. The Abbot will provide the therapist with all information in his possession pertaining to the alleged abuser.

D. If the psychological evaluation recommends treatment or other action, the Abbot follows this recommendation unless the circumstances warrant otherwise.

E. If the monk receives psychological treatment, the Abbot normally takes the following steps:

- 1. have the monk live at the monastery,
- 2. find appropriate work or vocational retraining and
- 3. establish appropriate limitations on involvement with students and employees of Saint John's.

F. After treatment, the Abbot and the monk, in consultation with the monk's treatment professional and others, establishes an aftercare program.

G. If the monk completes the recommended treatment and the aftercare program, and receives a positive evaluation, the Abbot, after appropriate consultation, will consider giving the monk a permanent assignment with appropriate safeguards.

H. If at any time the Abbot with appropriate consultation determines that the monk cannot continue in monastic life, the Abbot will seek to have the monk leave the monastery voluntarily. If the monk does not leave voluntarily, the abbot may initiate appropriate canonical actions.

III. Pastoral Response to Alleged Victim

A. When the Abbot receives an allegation directly from a victim, the Abbot initiates an interview with the victim, not only to listen to the victim's story, but also to evaluate the needs of the victim. This may not be appropriate in some cases such as with children.

B. After appropriate consultation, the Abbot normally takes one or more of the following steps:

- 1. Recommends that the alleged victim contact an advocate for victims of sexual abuse and sexual exploitation to assist the victim in evaluating the situation and the necessary needs.
- 2. Offers the victim financial assistance for counseling. Financial assistance normally is only offered if the alleged victim is personally interviewed. If financial assistance is accepted, the victim is asked to sign a statement that the financial assistance is not an admission of legal wrongdoing which can be used in subsequent legal action. The Abbot with the victim periodically will review the continuation of financial assistance.

C. If the Abbot receives a complaint or accusation against a monk from an attorney representing an alleged victim after assistance has been offered, the assistance will be continued unless prohibited by an insurance carrier in accord with III.B.2.

IV. Public Statement

A. In most cases it will be appropriate to write a statement or letter from the Abbot and send it to various constituencies of Saint John's.

B. If the monk is or has served in a parish, a prepared statement will be read at all of the Sunday masses if approved by the Diocese in which the parish is located.

C. If the allegation involves an incident which took place in a parish, a parish meeting for the parishioners will be held if approved by the Diocese in which the parish is located. The meeting should be limited to parishioners and should last no more than one hour. Along with the pastor who chairs the meeting, the Abbot, a representative of the diocese, and the sexual victim's advocate should be present.

V. Definitions

A. Abbot: the abbot, administrator of Saint John's Abbey or his delegate.

B. Allegation: a complaint or accusation made by a victim to the Abbot or a credible report made to the Abbot by another person because the victim is prevented for a serious reason to speak directly with the Abbot.

C. Sexual Abuse: under Minnesota law, the subjection of or any attempt to subject a child or vulnerable adult to any sexual act is sexual abuse.

D. Sexual Exploitation: under Minnesota law, any kind of sexual interaction between a counselor and client is sexual exploitation, whether initiated by either the counselor or the client. Clergy, when providing counseling, are considered counselors.

Dear sirs:

In this documentation I am giving you the names of those monks at Saint John's Abbey who are on restriction for sexual abuse. Their birth name is in brackets if different from their monastic name. The date of birth is in brackets.

In giving their assignments I have focused on the years between 1970 and 1990. In some cases with younger men, their work history only begins in the mid-1970s because they were still in the formation program at Saint John's Abbey. This effectively gives you a snapshot of their work assignments in this period.

If you have need of more information of clarification of the information I am enclosing here, do not hesitate to give me a call.

Dear Sheriff Sanner:

Acting on a request from Captain Pam Jensen, Case Manager Ron Jones has asked me for funding and resources for the purposes of conducting a hypnotic interview of regarding the ongoing investigation into the abduction of Jacob, on October 22, 1989.

The National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC) has requested the services of Dr. Michael Gelles, a noted expert in the fields of both hypnotic interviews and criminal behavior. Dr Gelles has agreed to conduct the interview and has requested file information for the purpose of preparing for the interview.

Attached to this letter you will find the summary of the review panel's recommendations from November 2, 2002. I would request that two members of our Project ALERT team visit with you in the near term and discuss the case with you and Captain Jensen for the purpose of putting together an investigative summary in preparation for the interview.

Dr. Gelles is foregoing his normal fees as a community service. Project ALERT will handle his travel and per diem expenses.

RE: Cold Case Investigation

Dear Mr. Winkels,

Yes, I did contact someone at the Jacob Wettelring Foundation and also the Stearns County Sheriff's Office. Stearns County at the time told me to go jump so to speak. Since that time, I simply forgot about the issue.

You know what is really funny? The BCA sent investigators to ask and see if my brother and dad abducted Jacob in 1989. The two of them would have never done anything of the sort. Neither of them are angels, but I do not believe they would have done something such as this. Dennis Frandsen may have had people abduct Jacob for him and/or others to play with and then dispose of the body after "they" whoever "they" is were finished. The reason I am stating this is people would try to frame me since I attended St. Cloud State University back in 1989 Why do I state this? Simple. Dennis Frandsen according to my deceased grandmother

My grandmother told me this on her death bed. I nave reported this alleged included to the Chisago County Sheriff's Office in Center City, MN. I think Jacob might be buried on my property in Rush City, MN. There have been rumors about people being buried on my property. Put it this way. It is worth having someone come search the property. My great uncle Clinton Newmann Darling used to live there before his death in 1996. For the most part, I have had possession of the property since his death.

I will phone your office on Monday. I possibly could meet with you on Tuesday. I can how you a place on my property where rumor is there is a person buried. Actually, it is star a rumor. A person named Bruce Fitzsimmons who is now deceased told me back in I think about 1991 where someone was buried. I blew it off at the time because he was pretty stewed at the time if you know what I mean. I figured he was joking with me. But, maybe Bruce was correct. I have never searched the spot because I certainly did not want to be accused of murdering someone. I am most definitely not an expert on the subject and if burial grounds are to be distrubed, I would want someone who knows what they are doing. I will give you permission to search the property if you want to. I will even walk you to the spot. I might be the only person alive who would know where this spot is.

Hopefully this makes sense to you what I have typed. For the record, I have tried to get various law enforcement entities to search my property before to see if there are any bodies buried out there but everybody has refused up to this point.

Sincerely,

Ray.

I have researched Dan Rassier's participation in marathons for the 2006 season. We had completed a profile of his activities from 1997 to October 2005 but not for the recent races and areas he has been traveling to.

I would like a search done in these locations for any AA, NFA, or LIM's within the date of Rassier's marathon travels:

April 8, 2006 Oct ?, 2006

Abilene, Kansas Des Moines, Iowa

Sept. 16, 2006

Walker North County Marathon, ?

August 19, 2006

Grizzley Mtn., Montana

2006, ?

TIMTAM Festival, Iowa Half Voyager Trail Marathon. ?

July 2006 August 27, 2006

State Fair 5K Run, Minn.

\pril 29.2006 April 02, 2006 Minot. ND Toledo, Ohio

Oct. 22, 2006

Mason City, Iowa

August 12, 2006 ?, 2006

Hurley, Wisconsin ?. Canada

?, 2006

50 & DC Marathon, Washington DC

Also there is a reference to a Thomas Murtha IV of Aitkin County (possibly Akin County) defending a Dan Rassier in a case. I was unable to retrieve the rest of the information, but curious if this is the same subject.

I found his photo and recent bio on a race in Iowa where he is a member of a Marathon Pace Team.

In a previous meeting with Stearns County we also discussed the checking Rassier's travels outside the USA, through ICE and Interpol. If you could have this information researched I would appreciate

I also need any firearms registrations for family members and Dan Rassier if available.

The question of Rassier's use of the school computer has not been answered, or I may have missed it. Do we have access to his internet usage from the school computer (for personal use, if any) through hotmail, yahoo or google etc? Can we access that information without violation in Minnesota?

Thank you for your assistance.

4:00 Hour Pace

Dan Rassier St. Joseph, Minnesota

Age: 50

Occupation: Music / Band Teacher

First Marathon: Twin Cities Marathon, 1985

Marathon PR: 3:17:42 - Bismark (North Dakota), 1998 Number of Marathons Completed: Over 100 in 18 states

Marathon finish you're most proud of and why: It would be the marathon I learned the most in, the 1987 Grandma's Marathon. It was my 2nd marathon and I decided to run it on a whim without proper training. If that wasn't enough, in an effort to improve upon the time from my first marathon I decided to skip the aid stations. It was a very hot day and I ran the entire marathon without allowing myself to drink anything. Needless to say, I ended up in the medic tent, got 2 bags of fluid, and barely missed out on a visit to the local ER. I will never figure out how I finished and lived to talk about it. A perfect example of what not to do. Since then, there have been several coming in a close 2nd but living to talk about my '87 Grandma's makes it #1.

Previous Pacing Experience: I've only paced myself.

Interests, hobbies, and any other information your pace team might like to know about you: Obviously music is a big consumer of my free time. I also really enjoy hiking and photography. If the situation permits, I'll play trumpet for the runners in local races. Runners really like the music excitement! Travel is always fun if there is time to really explore and hike about. Running consumes lots of time, but gives me energy to enjoy lot of other activities.

To Whom it May Concern:

I have spoken with a couple of investigators regarding the Jacob Wetterling case and the case of the sexual assault prior to that , both occurring in the Cold Spring MN area in 1989. The following includes some information I would consider pertinent in deciding whether to pursue the lead:

Kenneth Lawrence Doble, bd 1/8/43: 27452 Co Hwy 20, Detroit Lakes MN 56501. Grew up in Prior Lake area. Very dysfunctional family.

who I think lives in CA now. Mary Bouley (sister) gave me the most info about family of origin, her husband's name is Steve, last known address was in Shakopee. Has a brother, Tom, from Prior Lake, and another brother in Twin Cities. Ken's father was to wife and children, but liked Ken because he was athletic. Mary was in at least one foster home, I'm not sure if any of the other children were. I didn't learn of Ken's until after we were married, but believe that it may be at the root of his feelings of rage and helplessness that come over him. He went into a rage once about us going up to a lake cabin when he found out that his brother, Warren, may be coming there. He also did not even attend his own mother's funeral, likely because his brother may be there. I don't think that he has any ongoing contact with anyone in his family of origin. I invited his sister and family for Thanksgiving the year we married as they were a lot of fun and had boys the ages of my older son, Ken became very angry about this and we had to rescind the invitation.

Ken worked for an employer called Lakeville Flooring or something like that at the time I met him and had for many years. That company closed shortly after we were married in 1991, the owner retired I think, I cannot recall his name. Ken started his work day early and was usually done about 2 or 3 p.m. He did go up to the St. Cloud area for work on occasion he told me and had softball games or tournaments there occasionally as well. Other than that, I do not know of any connection he had with the area. He drove a white work van for Lakeville Flooring. Ken was extremely physically strong due to the type of work that he did and was also very athletic.

deceased. They had a daughter together, adopted as a baby or toddler by stepdad, Ken was in the service at the time I believe. Possibly in the Prior Lake Class of 1961? She died shortly after I met Ken, and he told me that when he went to the funeral home, ex-wife's family hurried the daughter out the back door so that she would not see him.

lives in Burnsville as far as I know. Had a son, Patrick, together.

not sure where she lives now or if she has remarried, lived in Apple Valley at one time. They were married for 10 years, no children. I believe that she left him around the time of either or Jacob's disappearance. He was extremely angry and distraught when she left him. My sister contacted her once after I left Ken as she was concerned for my safety. Peggy told her that she would speak with her on the phone, but would not risk meeting with her in person because she was still afraid of him. I called her once as well, after constant harassing telephone calls from Ken after I had left him. She did not have long to talk, but stated that he basically exhibited the same abusive behaviors with her as he had with me, even though they had no children—he blamed my children for causing his anger and explosive outbursts. She also stated that when she moved out, she moved in with some friends further down the lake, and that he would come and block her in sometimes with his vehicle so that she could not leave.

Met Ken

Ken did not exhibit signs of rage/anger/abuse during the year we dated, but it appeared pretty much Resented my children, especially cruel to was in high school at the time. He didn't like the way he kept his room, so he would go into his room before 6 a.m. and throw water on him. He would sometimes take his mattress and bedding and throw it into another room. He did not want them to have friends over and threatened to slash their tires if they came over. If my forgot to shut off the light in his room, he would remove all his light bulbs so that he could not have a light in his room. We never knew what would set him off - the same thing that he may laugh about one day would put him into a rage another day. My mother was dying at the time, and he even seemed resentful of that and the fact that I had to go to South Dakota to be with my family. One night I was ironing before leaving for SD the next day, and something made him furious, and he charged downstairs and yanked the iron out of my hands and ran upstairs with it. He then threw it out into the backyard as hard as he could in the rain (my younger son and his dad were out at the time and could have been coming up the sidewalk) and locked the door on me. I was afraid for my older son so ran around to the front of the house to make sure he was okay. Ken then went in and took a bath, and when he came out of the bathroom, he was totally happysmiling and whistling and acting like a completely different person. I asked him "How can you just change like that?" And he said "I guess I just washed the shit off of me." This type of erratic behavior was continuous until we left.

When Ken and I were dating in the summer of 1990, we went to a softball tournament in St. Cloud and stayed at a cabin with another couple. Ken acted strangely about going out to dinner one evening, and kind of acted upset about something and didn't want to go. The other couple and I finally talked him into going along, then at the restaurant, he stated to us that he looked just like a sketch of some kind of a suspect that was going around the area and was afraid that someone would think it was him, so he kept his hat on kind of low. I didn't know what he was talking about at the time and almost thought it humorous because he presented himself as so gentle, vulnerable and caring, and I wasn't familiar with any sketch and didn't think any more about it after that. As stated above, his extreme abusive behavior began right after we were married, and the thought crossed my mind before I left him, could he have had anything to do with Jacob's abduction? I did not know about at that time. I thought the idea too totally preposterous and did not pursue it.

Years later, I happened to see on KARE 11 about his ten months prior to Jacob's abduction. I saw the sketch and was totally taken aback. It looked exactly like Ken, with the ever-present baseball cap that he wore and the low gravely voice, which Ken also has always had. I kind of wondered if I were crazy to even entertain the thought that he could be responsible for such a horrible act, but did voice my concern to one of my children. then contacted her friend, Anna's husband, Chris Erickson, who is a MN State Trooper. He gave her a phone number to contact an agent on Jacob's case, which was I believe Denny Fears, who is now retired. He contacted me and I did speak briefly with him. A background check on Ken was done, which came back clear. I, at the time, sensed that the authorities did not put much credence into my theory, so I chose not to pursue it any further.

Over Thanksgiving out in Colorado this year (2007), and I saw Drew Peterson's former fiancee' on the Today Show, and we again began to equate Ken with Drew Peterson and again wondered if he could have been responsible for either or Jacob's disappearance. We then went and checked some sites on the computer, and on one sight, the sketch of the person who came up, and I actually screamed out loud as it almost looked more like a picture of Ken than a sketch. I have never seen a sketch look that much like an actual person in my life. As we also read the account of Jacob's abduction, the "raspy" voice also caught our attention, as Ken has a very raspy voice all of the time. I think that a person can perhaps disguise their voice, but I don't know that you can, at will, make your voice "raspy." Also, the fact that he asked all of the boys their ages seemed as though it could be a clue...perhaps looking for a young boy who was either the age he was when abused or the age his brother was as his abuser. I have copied pictures of Ken that I think to see if he believes Ken could be his perpetrator. I also have a Christmas tape of my mom's last Christmas (1991) that Ken can be briefly seen and heard in. My son, at one time, had a tape of Ken in a rage that he taped unbeknownst to Ken, but I am unable to locate that at this time. I am sending the above-mentioned tape to a family member at this time to have copies made.

It should also be noted that Ken constantly harassed and stalked me after I left him. He called me at home and at work continuously, and was alternately threatening and rageful or depressed and suicidal. He would leave notes on my car at work, and I would often see his work van (Bloomington Linoleum) sitting on the shoulder of the road along my route to work, he apparently waiting to see me go by. I never attempted to get an OFP on him, probably stupidly, but I was afraid that if I did that, that would only serve to make him even more angry so that he may do something worse to me or my family other than stalking and harassing us. I did not apply for an OFP when the kids and I still lived with Ken because I had sold my home and we were living in his home, and I thought that if I did that and he were forced to move out temporarily from what he perceived to be "his home," that would really put him over the edge, and after living with and seeing his rages, I thought there was a definite possibility that he could potentially be capable of things even worse than we had already seen. I also was aware having worked in Social Services and Corrections, that an OFP certainly doesn't always deter an abuser.

Ken also apparently had a suicide attempt some years before I knew him and was hospitalized or committed to the Hastings Mental Health facility, which I believe is now a Veteran's Home possibly? I do not know a lot of the details involved with this, but I believe that he was a resident of the Ardmore Mobile Home Park in Lakeville MN at the time.

I believe that Peggy, Ken's last wife prior to me, would have a lot of information regarding Ken and especially his behavior at the time she finally left him, which I think may have concurred with the timeframes of and/or Jacob's abduction. She still went by the name, Peggy Doble, when they divorced, but I do not know her current marital status or whereabouts.

I have been beside myself thinking I may be crazy or perceived as a spiteful ex-wife out for revenge. Nothing could be further from the truth, I hope to God that I am wrong about this and would like nothing more than to keep this painful chapter of my life buried in the past, but I feel that I owe it to these two families to at least present this information if there's even a remote possibility that Ken could be involved. Two of my children especially, Amy and Troy, have also very strongly encouraged me to contact the authorities at this time. My daughter, Amy, said to me, "Mom, you have to do this for these families...and you have grandsons..."

We feel that there is enough evidence to believe Ken could be a potential suspect. the identical sketch; the raspy voice; ; the family of origin dysfunction; the abusive and rageful behavior that we both observed and received from Ken, as well as this behavior directed at his former wives; the uneasiness he felt regarding a sketch that he thought resembled him. I don't think that most people would even recognize themselves in a sketch, and how did he even know about this sketch if most people did not at the time? I understand that I know very little about these types of investigations and what criteria is used, I know that I was asked about any connections or reasons he may have had to be in the St. Cloud area at the time. As stated, he routinely completed work early in the afternoon, and who knows what reasoning goes on in the mind of a mentally unstable person?

I also want authorities to know that I want to remain as anonymous as is possible if Ken should be interviewed, as I definitely would fear that my children or grandchildren could be in danger from him. I also mentioned to one of the people I spoke with at the MN BCA that there would be a possibility of him harming himself as well if he finds himself a suspect.

I do apologize if I am sounding over-zealous or demanding and certainly do understand that these cases are "cold cases" and 18-year-old cold cases at that. However, with that being said, I do feel that our information is valid and may warrant further investigation. The fact that there is a who could possibly identify Ken by his picture and voice (or rule him out, for that matter) seems reason enough to pursue it in my mind. I would venture a guess that even though occurred many years ago, that the face and voice of his perpetrator remain indelibly etched in his mind to this day. I believe that there are also two other boys who heard the abductor's voice in Jacob's case, although the perpetrator was masked.

At any rate, I do thank you for your time. I can be reached at my work number of home number of and a cell number of My cell is a pay-as-you-go and not used too often.

Aerial Imaging and Searching Recommendations for Clandestine Graves

Case:

Search Area of Farm in St. Joseph, Minnesota

(45-33'25.63" N, 94-17'32.90" W)

Dear Mr. Schmidt:

We are submitting the following materials and recommendations to you in response to your inquiry about locating maps or aerial images that may provide information on the land use and possible changes in the landscape in the immediate vicinity of Jacob Wetterling's disappearance (45-33'25.63" N, 94-17'32.90" W) during the 1989-1990 time frame that may be indicative of a clandestine burial. The goals of our analysis were to:

1. Locate historic and modern maps and photographs of the area in question;

2. Determine if there were obvious ground disturbing activities at this location after October 1989 and highlight areas of interest for searching the property using archaeological and/or geophysical techniques;

3. To make recommendations for the search of a potential clandestine grave.

To accomplish these goals we searched through a variety of on-line sources and the archival records at the Stearns County Historical Society. We also consulted with our team of experts on search strategy recommendations from Geography (Dr. Robert Brinkman, USF), Geology (Dr. Sarah Kruse, USF), Archaeology (Dr. Christian Wells and Dr. Nancy White, USF), Soil Chemistry (Dr. Arpad Vass, Oak Ridge National Laboratory, Tennessee), and Law Enforcement (Corporal Mike Lowell, Temple Terrace Police, FL). Our team has worked together to assist local law enforcement agencies in the Tampa Bay region on similar kinds of forensic cases. Our group was consulted on interpreting photographic evidence and compiling recommendations for a search strategy given the specific landscape of this particular environment.

I. Materials

Several different sources of information were consulted that form the basis for our recommendations. These sources include archival maps and property records from the Stearns County Historical Society, various data layers obtained on-line from the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources GIS Data Deli, and specific soils information obtained from the US Department of Agriculture (USDA), Natural Resource Conservation Service.

Changes in land ownership were tracked by compiling the Plat maps copied from the Land Atlas and Plat Book of Stearns County Minnesota, dated 1986, 1989, 1992, and 1996. These maps provide land ownership and property transfers during the period in question. They also indicate changes in land use.

The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, GIS Data Deli, provides various forms of spatial information in shapefile format the can be manipulated with Geographic Information Systems (GIS) software. Various layers of information were downloaded which can then be visually compared or subjected to a variety of geoprocessing techniques. The data we found useful for this investigation included historic aerial photographs (1938/39, 1950, and 1991), modern (2004) digital imagery (ortho-rectified satellite images), public land survey boundaries, geomorphology, general soils associations, specific soil series, and land use layers. These data have been included on the enclosed CD-Rom.

The information concerning specific soil profiles was obtained from the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service. Specialized soil reports can be developed on-line and downloaded as a PDF file. These reports provide detained information about the development of various soil types, specific drainage characteristics, subsurface soil horizons, and other indicators of historic and modern soil disturbance. They are particularly useful in determining what the natural soil profile in an area should look like and differentiating natural from disturbed soil profiles. Two reports have been included on the enclosed CD-Rom. The first report is specific to the immediate vicinity of Jacob Wetterling's (1989) disappearance; the other is a more general consideration of specific soils in the area around the region.

The soils in this portion of Minnesota have been strongly influenced by glacial activities over the past 100,000 years. Glacial till, or sandy, rock-filled subsoil, underlies much of the region. These soils are blanketed by wind-blown sediments that contain clays, loam, and varying amounts of organic material. In many areas, the upper soil zones have been disked and tilled as farmland for many years and the upper soil horizons are likely homogenized into a single stratagraphic unit. This surface zone should be clearly discernable from the underlying glacial till. Ground penetrating radar (GPR) would be useful in areas where these two zones have been recently mixed, like around the excavation sites for clandestine graves, provided there is little or no clay within the subsoil.

II. Notation of Disturbance

It is evident from Figures 4 and 5 that there are differences in the land surface/use in several noted areas (refer to Figure 8). These areas are represented on the map as (a) shaded area, and (b) blue circle.

In Figure 8, Area (a) has a long land use history as a gravel pit as indicated on Plat maps dating from 1938 through 1973 (the nearest image available to the time in question). It also shows up as a mine or gravel pit in the soil survey of the area. A distinctive change in land use was noted by 1991. The aerial photography taken from 1991 to present shows that grass has been allowed to grow over this mine or gravel pit for the first time with since the 1940s. This is a very dramatic change in land use. This is a very interesting feature from the perspective of changes in land use over time and should be further investigated on the ground. Due to the disturbed nature of this area as a gravel pit, it is recommended that heavy equipment be used in a careful and systematic way, as to recover the greatest amount of data from this location.

The small blue circle around Area (b) marks a low depressed area in a thickly wooded portion of the property that is shown on the image as a very small wet area in 1973. By 1991, however, this area is shown to have greatly increased in size. An increase in the size and depth of this area may be indicative of disturbance to the area where earth is disturbed or dug up and filled in. The exact nature of this anomaly can not be determined from aerial images. Since this significant change to the landscape occurred during the time frame in question, it is also an area of increased interest and should be investigated further on the ground. Because of the high clay content of the soil in this area, GPR would be ineffective at this location. Archaeological testing methods including trenching, probing, and shovel testing rather than geophysical methods are recommended in this area.

III. Recommendations

Given the composition of the soils in the area as well as the amount of area to be covered, it is our opinion that the use of GPR should be limited to specific target locations that are free from clay subsoils. Two additional forms of remote sensing magnetometry and resistivity could also be useful techniques provided that area is free from electromagnetic interference (power lines) and large metal objects. Changes in the landscape during the time in question provide considerable reason for further examination. Due to the nature of aerial images and the specific time in question, answering questions as to the specific origin of such changes to the landscape can not be answered from the data currently available. In order to confirm the presence of a clandestine grave, or to rule out the area as a possible disturbance due to human modification, further testing and exploration of the ground surface and subsurface are needed. Therefore, it is our expert opinion and scientific recommendation that the property be searched using a variety of archaeological methods, including heavy equipment (backhoe and/or Gradall® excavator), remote sensing techniques in those target areas free from clay subsoils, as well as systematic probing, shovel testing, and trenching starting in the regions marked as most significant and extending outward in a grid pattern throughout the property.

While we can not remark on the origin of changes to the landscape during the time frame 1973-1991 from these images alone, it is evident that visible changes in the landscape are present and that the only way to know whether this is the result of a clandestine grave is to apply a scientific method for searching the area through forensic archaeological methods. Such a systematic search allows investigators to carefully extract the most amount of evidence from the site, to ensure that data is not lost or destroyed, and to ultimately recover a grave or confidently rule out the area all together.

Sheriff John Sanner Stearns County Sheriff's Office 807 Courthouse Square P.O. Box 217 Saint Cloud MN. 56302-0217

Dear Sheriff John Sanner:

Acting on your agencies request for assistance from the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC) regarding the ongoing investigation of Jacob Wetterling on October 22, 1989, the following information is to inform you of the progress that has been completed to date.

In a report sent to your agency February 03, 2008 was an outline of marathon races that Dan Rassier had been involved in from 2000 through 2007. At that time I had not completed the contacts with the 42agencies involved. Since that report I have concluded the investigation into Rassier's activities in these communities and have had negative results. All agencies have researched their respective cases and reports for the time periods that Rassier would have been in the area one month prior to and one month following the marathon in the County, Town or City of that jurisdiction and have had no contacts with Rassier or reports involving runaways, missing children, abductions, attempted abductions, male exposure, voyeurism, inappropriate contact, reports of a suspicious nature involving children or any reports that officers may not have documented children involved.

Attached to this letter you will also find the summary from USF superational Anthropology. Dr. Erin H. Kimmerle, Ph.D. and Mr. Richard Estabrook, M.A. with aerial imaging and search recommendations for clandestine graves located on the Rassier property, included is a CD that includes GIS and Soil Data. The information is a comparison of disturbances in the topography for a period prior to and following the disappearance of Jacob at the location he was last seen.

The second attachments are news clips of the Michael J. Devlin case that has brought national attention. Our follow up to Michael Devlin's involvement with Jacob's investigation has lead to negative results however this does not exclude him from further investigation.

The third attachment is information that I received while in Kosse, Texas on a search working with US Marshal Christian J. Casson, Lone Star Fugitive Task Force. Christian developed information on a suspect that he felt would be of interest in the Wetterling investigation. The identified suspect Walled Tames Keilhorn, DOB: 10/02/54; SSN: ; FBI# was arrested 08/87 for 3rd Degree Sexual Assault in Rhode Island. He has lived in RI, MA, OH, MN, TX and is a computer expert. As part of his probation, he was to attend Sex Offender Counseling. He was kicked out due to no remorse regarding the offense, he stated "They wanted it" deflecting any responsibility. June 2007 he was arrested for failing to register in Kinney County, Texas. Search Warrant revealed numerous and elaborate computer systems and newly purchased children's clothing. Christian felt that the profile of Keilhorn and the image your agency produced of the suspect in Jacob's abduction were similar.

I have completed a background on Keilhorn that include contacts and residence in Minnesota, Accurint, AutoTrack, LexisNexis, JusticeXchange, DMV records and Sex Offender Registries for your review.

This case has long been a cooperative effort with your office and NEMEC; I look forward to continuing this investigation with hopes of success. If I can be of further service please contact me or Mr. Ray Harp PA, NCMEC.

Respectfully,

Henry Schmidt TAC/PAV

A list of the marathons that suspect Dan Rassier ran between 2000 and 2007 was provided by Staca Urie. The NCMEC database was searched for any missing child (LIM, NFA or Section 5779) who went missing around the time that Wetterling suspect ran these marathons. Database was searched for dates that were at least 10 days prior and 10 days after suspect ran marathon. A list of all missing LIMs, NFAs and Section 5779 children are listed on the attached Excel spreadsheet. The child's case is listed by NCMEC case number and includes a synopsis of the missing child case. In cases where there was any possible connection between Rassier and the child or where there was insufficient information in the case to make a decision, the case was highlighted in bold red on the spreadsheet.

Please let me know if you need any additional information. Thanks.

Attached is the statement I sent to CO per your request.

With regards to Lee's brothers, I do have some clarification notes. I told you about Lance in our phone conversation tonight. Steven and Ricky Joe (deceased) are both mentioned in the email below. There was also a girl in the family - Shannon Lee who died I think while still an infant.

Please let me know if you need anything further.

It wasn't until the next day at the Blue Water Cafe at work, that all the people in the restaurant (it was a very small town), were all talking about the fire at the golf course. I was like oh my God, did the guys do that last night? I didn't say anything to anyone about it but I did confront Lee at his cabin that evening. I was begging him to go to the cops. He of course wouldn't and then he started with this blackmail crap that has been hanging over my head since this incident. If I went to the cops, I would go to jail too. And if I ever left him and/or if he went to jail, he would tell on me that I knew about the Grand Marais incident. So starts the saga of the Grand Marais blackmail incident. He did tell me that he was very concerned that he dropped a book of matches (that possibly had his fingerprints on it) but also apparently was relieved as it rained outside the next day and that would erase the fingerprints from the matches. I believe we lived in Grand Marais approx June, 1990 -September, 1990.

After the summer was over, we left Grand Marais and came back to the city, Lee got a job cooking in downtown St Paul at a restaurant called the Hearthrob Cafe and I went to live with my parents again. He was staying downtown with a friend. I should've went back to college like I had planned to but he kept convincing me that we had to live together and then we moved into a studio apartment on Burns Avenue, near Highway 61 and Burns Avenue in St Paul. I don't recall the address. This was just a studio apartment so we had a pullout couch on the floor in the living room. No bedroom.

Lee was drinking way too much. When I told him no he couldn't > have anymore, we didn't have the money, he would just physically take > it out of my purse when I wasn't looking or sometimes boldly enough, > take it out of my purse while I was looking. And so it came that we moved out of Burns Avenue, and into my Grandpa's House which was at 1023 Orchard St, St Paul, MN. My Grandpa was old and needed help, and we had very cheap rent there. We lived upstairs. Even though my Grandpa was a Roman Catholic, he didn't seem to have the "issues" that my parents did with me and Lee living together. We didn't have a car there. Mine had gotten reposessed by Lee's alcohol problems, he took all the money, and then we couldn't Leading into the Brandon incident, we had moved out of Grandpa's house. Lee had been drinking alot and now apparently Grandpa had been counting all of Lee's bottles of Bicardi and was reporting the numbers of bottles a week to my mom. I had saved enough money to get us moved out and into the Maryland Avenue Apartments. This is where I started working two jobs all the time. Lee had met some of the neighborhood teenagers-not sure how unless they were hanging around outside, whose parents were drug addicts, who hit them, and who wouldn't feed them (so Lee would say).

He would make me feel sorry for them, and cook for them, buy food. , their moms can't afford any ice cream treats for them, > but you can"...He would guilt trip me into buying them all kinds of > stuff. So we move to CO, we have a Suburban pulling my Mustang on a trailer, and the dog and the cat with us. I was going to have Lee stop for the night halfway so we could get a hotel but he insisted on driving the entire way. Well I knew when we got there why, as he and Ross were discussing "crank" right when he got there. Apparently Lee had driven cross-country on crank and then was wanting money for acohol and the fights began again. Yeah, right great start for starting over! I was mad. Already a mess and we hadn't even been in CO for 24 hours. We stayed at a hotel for about a week or so until I landed our condo over at 875 S Quebec, #8, Denver, CO 80231. And we moved in with Ross Lewandowski, Lee's friend as the condo was a 2 bedroom.

> We weren't there a week or so when Lee met
> He was bbging ribs outside in the apartment complex yard and

There are several incidences at 875 S Quebec, I will list a few pou. One is that Lee during an argument with me while he was drunk, threw me across the living room and I hit the coffee table with my right arm. I sprained it and had to go to Swedish Hospital. Of course I couldn't tell them that he threw me. I told them I fell. It would've been under my maiden name of Loipersbeck. I also had bought a gun during the time we lived there. I had it because I was scared. Lee ended up pawning it, and when he tried to get it back supposedly the FBI (or ATF) showed up asking why he was trying to buy a gun. They > intentional defiance of Don's instructions would probably make it that couldn't come back up to visit. And this wasn't good being the fact, she just got back. Well apparently I had gotten too close to the truth during that time (now that we know what we know now) and that is apparently why he flew into this furious rage. I was running down the stairs away from him and he grabbed me, held me down and had in his hand, a grill lighter shaped like a match, approx 8" long or so, with a big red jeavy ceramic head on it and proceeded on hitting me with it on the back of my head, screaming "Don't you EVER accuse me of that!!! I was like "I didn't accuse you of that!!!" It was horrible. I had a HUGE goosegg on the back of my head and was seeing stars... After that day I started planning to get out. I wasn't going to live much longer if I kept staying there... I had to do some planning to get out no matter if Lee blackmailed me or not.

Don ended up grounding from the because she > was supposed to wait for me and instead chose to ride with Lee. So > she got in trouble too. That grounding lasted a long time too. This > would lead to the meth addiction.

> Lee knew some meth dealer up in Bailey. I don't know too much > about them but that they didn't live too far and and he was having a > hard time controlling it. Ross Lewandowski was living with us again > and I hated it.

> Supporting the world again. I was miserable. Ross had witnessed alot of the verbal abuse and kept telling me that I didn't deserve that. I just figured he was hitting on me. He always hit on me. I had finally left up there and went and stayed with Kim and Doug for like 5 days or so, to spend some time with my Godchild Shyenne and to get away from it all. I could still drive to work and work all the hours but I also wanted to go to the flea market and get some stuff so I could stay longer. I didn't want to go home. And Ross would take care of the dogs for me cuz Lee wouldn't. He hated my dogs and threatened if I left, he would kill them. (and per our conversation, one of them did die while I was moving out in December, 2006).

Subject: Cold Case - Wetterling

am,

had a Veterinarian give me some information that probably could be checked out some. He did some work for an individual by the ame of Chuck Will in the Underwood area. The Vet said that Chuck Will is kind of a bullshitter so he doesn't know how valid this formation is but the Vet thought he should tell someone about it.

the late 80's or early 90's, Chuck Will had a farm hand employee by the name of MELVIN KNAKE. Chuck Will told of a couple cidents involving Knake that he felt were suspicious.

ne involved one of Will's kids winning a free throw contest and was supposed to go to Fargo for more competition. Will and his ife weren't able to bring the kid at first and Knake volunteered to bring him to Fargo. Will was then able to go and Knake was ancelled out. For some reason, Will told the vet that he felt that Knake would have abducted his child if he would have allowed nake to take him.

nother portion of the story is that one of Will's kids once mentioned that they thought they knew who abducted Wetterling. ccording to Will, Knake froze at the time which caused suspicion in Will.

nake left employment with Will (unannounced) and Will suspects that Knake took a coin collection from him. He has no idea here Knake is now.

shecked Knake through DMV and he is conax, last action in 1995, address is Columbus, MN. nake has a brother near Long Prairie so the vet thinks that Knake would be familiar with Jodi Huisentruit also and maybe had hing to do with that.

upposedly Knake's wife is in the Rochester area which could also be a tie to Huisentruit because of its proximity to lowa.

his is a lot of mere suspicion stuff and I'm sure you guys are overwhelmed at times with this kind of info. Just thought I should rward it to you.

ne vet is Delvin Salathe (218) 639-3116. I asked the vet if Will would mind talking to someone and he advised that he would not.

Nathaniel Bar-Jonah

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Nathaniel Benjamin Levi Bar-Jonah, born David Paul Brown (February 15, 1957 – April 13, 2008), was a convicted felon who was serving a 130-year prison sentence without the possibility of parole in Montana after being convicted of kidnapping, aggravated assault, and sexual assault of various children. [1] He was born in Worcester, Massachusetts. [2]

Massachusetts years

In 1974 he pleaded guilty to impersonating a policeman and assaulting an eight-year-old boy, for which he received one year of probation. In 1977,

Brown was convicted of the kidnapping and attempted murder of two boys and was sentenced to 18 to 20 years in prison. [3] He was strangling the two boys while one managed to escape and find help.

While in prison he was transferred to the Bridgewater State Hospital. In 1991, he changed his name to Nathaniel Benjamin Levi Bar-Jonah. Later in the same year, Superior Court Judge Walter E. Steele ruled that Massachusetts had failed to prove that Bar-Jonah was dangerous and he was released before moving to Great Falls, Montana. [3]

Montana years

Bar-Jonah was arrested in 1999, again and initially for impersonating a police officer. After searching his home and finding, among other things, many pictures of young children cut out of magazines and a bone that was identified as belonging to an unknown young male, Montana police charged Bar-Jonah with kidnapping and sexual assault, [4] as well as the kidnapping and sexual assault of three other boys. [3]

Jonah had evidence against him and was going to be tried for the murder and cannibalism of young Zack Ramsay. There was also evidence that Bar-Jonah cooked the child up and served him to unexpected guests and neighbors including the child's own family. However, the mother of this child refused to cooperate with the police authorities on the belief that it was not her son and he was still alive. [2][5]

The charges involving the other three boys, on the other hand, were carried out and Bar-Jonah was Bar-Jonah was convicted of kidnapping, aggravated assault, and sexual assault. He was given a 130-year prison sentence. He maintained his innocence up until his death. Montana authorities were unaware of Bar-Jonah's past trouble in Massachusetts, a fact that was cited by activists campaigning to force former sex offenders to register. Mathaniel Bar-Jonah was found unresponsive early Sunday April 13, 2008. He had been in poor health. His post mortem found significant levels of LDL in his arteries and myocardial infarction was the determined cause of death.

Cannibal Child Killer Nathaniel Bar-Jonah

NATHANIEL BAR-JONAH

Classification: Cannibalistic Paedophile

Arrested: December 20, 2000

No. Victims: 1+ Active:1993-2000

Age: 42

Victim Profile: Young Boys

MO: Pretended to be a police officer to lure away

young boys

Fetish: Collected names of boys, served the remains of one of his victims to friends and neighbors.

Location: Montana, Massachusetts, Canada

October 2, 2002 - Confessed annibal killer Nathaniel Bar-Jonah, accused of butchering a 10-year-old boy and feeding him to neighbors, won't face murder and kidnapping charges because the alleged victim's mother believes her son is still alive. Zachary Ramsay's mother, Rachel Howard, said she was prepared to testify she did not believe Nathaniel Bar-Jonah had killed her son in 1996, prompting prosecutors to drop their case. "I did not want Bar-Jonah to be convicted of a crime that I did not believe he did," Howard said.

Hher belief is based on several things, including a videotape she says shows her son at age 12. She said police did not believe the boy in the video was her son. Bar-Jonah, 45, already serving a 130-year prison sentence in Montana for kidnapping and sexual assault in a separate case, was accused of abducting Zachary while he walked to school. The boy's body was never found, and authorities have said evidence suggests Bar-Jonah killed the boy and disposed of his body in meals served to unsuspecting neighbors.

Searches of Bar-Jonah's house nearly three years ago turned up lists of children's names, including Zachary, and encrypted letters in which Bar-Jonah wrote about such dishes as "little boy stew," "little boy pot pies" and "lunch is served on the patio with roasted child."

Bar-Jonah was convicted earlier this year of sexually assaulting a 14-year-old Great Falls boy, and hanging the boy's 8-year-old cousin from a kitchen ceiling. Those assaults occurred in 1998 and 1999. Bar-Jonah has appealed the verdict. Bar-Jonah spent 11 years in a Massachusetts mental hospital after one attack in which authorities said he tried to kill two boys. Before that, he had forced an 8-year-old boy into his car and choked him with his belt. Shortly after his release, he assaulted another boy. Under a 1991 plea agreement with Massachusetts prosecutors, Bar-Jonah was allowed to move to Montana with his mother. Montana authorities were outraged to learn of the deal after Bar-Jonah's arrest.

February 21, 2002 - In his trial for molesting three children in Grat Falls, Montana, Defense attorneys for pedophile-killer Nathaniel Bar-Jonah tried to downplay testimony from three boys who said they were molested by him. According to the attorneys the youngsters were coerced by police. However, an FBI especialist -- while admitting that detectives may have made mistakes -- said the witnesses were not lying. One of the boys said that Bar-Jonah, who was his neighbor, put a rope around his neck and hanged him from a kitchen ceiling. The others testified about sleepovers at his house and how the man had touched them sexually.

The oldest victim -- who is now a teenager -- acknowledged to defense attorney Gregory Jackson that he visited Bar-Jonah in the Cascade County jail and sent him a letter in 2000 -- at Bar-Jonah's request -- praising him as a friend. "Nathan, you treated me really nice," the letter read. "You never harmed me in any way. I really miss you, big guy. You were like the dad I never had." Jackson suggested that police and FBI interviews of the teen-ager, his then-5-year-old brother and an 8-year-old cousin influenced the boys to make the accusations. Cascade County Attorney Brant Light told the jury that Bar-Jonah patiently spent months befriending the boys only so he could victimize them. "This is a man who, at age 42, had only one ambition -- to pursue young boys and molest them," he said.

In what seems to be the first cannibal-murder case of 2001 and police in Great Falls, Montana arrested child molester and sexual sadist Nathaniel Bar-Jonah for the murder of 10-year-old Zachary Ramsay, who disappeared in 1996. Montana authorities have never recovered Ramsay's body and now believe Bar-Jonah ate the remains and also fed them to unwitting friends. They also suspect Bar-Jonah could be a serial killer after finding an unidentified child's bones in his garage and have enlisted the FBI's help in finding victims in other areas, including the Massachusetts.

Police said they found the names of four former Webster boys on a handwritten list seized from accused murderer and pedophile Nathaniel Bar-Jonah's Montana home. Police say that 27 of the 54 names on the list may be those of Massachusetts children whom Bar-Jonah knew when he grew up in the town of Webster (as David P. Brown) in the 1960s and 1970s. Included on the list are names of three boys whom Bar-Jonah was convicted of abducting in 1975 and 1977. Webster police Officer John Bolduc said he recognized several other names on the list despite misspellings. Bolduc's department received the list from police in Great Falls, Montana, where Bar-Jonah is jailed on murder charges.

Evidence also shows Bar-Jonah traveled to Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Massachusetts, Michigan and Washington. The FEI is working with authorities in those states and others to review missing children reports.

Bar-Jonah was convicted in 1977 of kidnapping and trying to kill two Shrewsbury boys. He was sentenced to 18 to 20 years in jail before being deemed sexually dangerous and shipped to the Massachusetts Treatment Center in Bridgewater. According to Bar-Jonah himself it was his Lord and savior who shepered his release from the center in July 1991.

"I've seen God take a hopeless situation like when all avenues were closed it seemed and I'd never, ever be released," Bar-Jonah wrote in the rambling he sent to the Great Falls Tribune. "Yet God told me'I would and I believed Him even though the evidence of my release was not there. Then totally out of left field I got 2 - Yes, 2 - Christian psychiatrists who believed in me. That was a miracle in it self (sic) to find 2 Christians in that profession in Massachusetts. The state had a lot of evidence on their side, yet the judge sided with me."

American police are searching in Canada for other possible child victims of cannibal killer Nathaniel Bar-Jonah. "We can put him crossing the border several times and we are working that angle," police Sergeant John Cameron, the lead investigator on the case, said from Great Falls, Montana. "Alberta and Saskatchewan are the two places I think we were able to place him in, somewhere in the mid-'90s."

Bar-Jonah told the mother of 10-year-old Zachary Ramsay he had "hunted, killed, butchered and wrapped the meat" of her child. Prosecutors said he also served and ate burgers containing human flesh at a barbecue for his mother and a friend. A police search of Bar-Jonah's home revealed hundreds of cryptic notes written by him with headings such as: "Lunch is served on the patio with roasted child," and "Barbecue bee sum young guy." Police also found a meat grinder with hair inside along with numerous displayed newspaper clippings on Zachary's disappearance.

There was a large piece of plywood that was smeared with a wide indelible stain despite being repeatedly scrubbed with bleach. Lab tests indicated the board was struck several times with a sharp instrument. There were also the names of thousands of children.

"There are lists of children that you can just turn page after page after page," said Erant Light, the lead prosecutor on the case. Also found were 3,500 pictures of youngsters. "He had notebooks where there's pictures of children cut out of annual school books and newspapers with their names underneath -- just like collecting baseball cards," Mr. Light said.

Police also found stun guns, stun batons, police badges, police patches, and a realistic toy revolver. When police arrested Bar-Jonah in December 1999, he was dressed in a navy nylon jacket, circling an elementary school and was allegedly carrying a stun gun, a toy pistol, a fake police badge and pepper spray.

Synopsis Occupant of a single family residence awoke to discover his father's wood working shop on fire and called 911. Upon arrival with utility poles on fire firefighters discovered the wood working shop along with an adjacent machine shed engulfed in flames. Firefighters made an exterior attack to extinguish the blaze. Due to total destruction of the wood working shop an area of origin and or cause for the fire couldn't be determined.

Narrative Report

People

Reporting Party; Daniel Alfred Rassier, DOB; 10/25//1955, 29748 91st Avenue St. Joseph, MN (320) 363-8427;

St. Joseph Fire Department; Fire Chief Jeff Taufen, (320) 492-3387, Captain Mike Lyon, (320) 980-3995;

Background

At 1120 hours on June 4, 2009 I received a phone call from St. Joseph Fire Chief Jeff Taufen who requested my assistance for a shed fire that occurred earlier this morning at 29748 91st Avenue St. Joseph. "aufen stated the shed is used as a wood working shop by property. Taufen also stated the fire spread to an adjacent machine shed destroying the structure and farm equipment stored inside. At 1315 hours on June 4, 2009 I arrived at Robert & Rita Rassier's rural farm site where I observed two outbuildings consumed by fire. Electrical contractor and local utility company were in the process of installing new utility poles and overhead power lines that were destroyed during the fire. I was met by St. Joseph Fire Chief Jeff Taufen and Fire Captain Mike Lyon who provided me with the following background information;

- Fire was reported by occupant of residence Dan Rassier at 0239 hours this morning;
- Rassier told FD he woke up to a noise outside and discovered the wood shop on fire, tried calling from the house phone but power was out, called 911 from a cell phone to report the fire;
- Upon arrival west structure was totally engulfed in flames, initially firefighters didn't realize there were two structures involved in the fire, west structure was a machine shed the east structure a wood working shop;
- Overhead power lines had collapsed, over head power lines between two utility poles that were on fire in the farm yard were arcing;
- Firefighters extinguished the burning utility poles and made an exterior attack on flames of the burning structures;
- Steams Electric arrived on scene and disconnected power to the property site;

I then met with and conducted a digitally recorded interview with property owner Robert Rassier, see iterview. Rassier also signed a consent form for this fire investigation, see attachment. I then proceeded to process the fire scene by taking photographs and examining fire damage to the structures. At the conclusion of my scene examination met with and conducted a digitally recorded interview with Rassier's son Daniel Rassier who discovered and reported the fire, see interview.

Scene Examination

Single story structure built in 1944 is a wood framed structure used as a wood working shop for personal use by its property owner. Wood working shop constructed atop a floating concrete slap consists of a wood exterior with pitched roof covered with asphalt shingles. Interior of the wood working shop insulated and heated with an unapproved woodstove consists of OSB sheeted walls and ceilings. Lighting consists of various ceiling mounted incandescent light fixtures. Electrical panel fuse type is located in the northwest corner of the shop. Interior of the wood working shop contains various types of hand and power tools associated with wood working, i.e. routers, table saw and lathe. Wood working shop along with several other farm type outbuildings including an older single family residence is located on a rural farm site just south of the city limits of the city of St. Joseph in Stearns County.

Both the wood working shop and adjacent wood framed machine shed used to store old farm equipment are consumed by fire. Machine shed with no electrical service is approximately 6 feet west of the wood working shop. I focused my scene examination to the wood working shop where the fire originated at. Wood shop is reduced to a pile of ash and fire debris lying atop the buildings concrete slab. All that remains standing is the shops concrete block chimney located along the south wall of the structure. In front of the chimney are the metal remains of an unapproved woodstove. Outside at the northeast corner of the wood shop is a concrete slap and wood remains of an outhouse currently used as a restroom by property owners. During fire suppression a firefighter fell through the wood floor of the outhouse. Below grade, the waste area of the outhouse is lined with wood boards. I then sifted through fire debris within the shop and uncovered the remains f many hand and power tools all destroyed by heat and flames. In the northwest corner of the shop I uncovered the remains of several electrical artifacts, receptacle, fuse panel and electrical disconnect boxes. Electrical artifacts including roxex wiring within the shop are all severely compromised. I couldn't eliminate a potential electrical cause for the fire. During my interview with property owner Robert Rassier I learned Rassier was staining a handrail inside the shop prior to the fire. Rassier stated he used cotton rags to apply the stain and that after staining he discarded the rags into a burning barrel outside. Rassier provided me with an exemplar can of stain he was using to stain the handrail. Brand name of the stain is Step Saver Deft, there are many printed warning labels on the can pertaining to the dangers associated with using the product including discarded stain waste many spontaneously combust. Due to total destruction of the structure I couldn't determine an exact area of origin for the fire nor could I determine an exact cause for the fire. All accidental causes for the fire couldn't be eliminated.

Evidence

I collected no evidence from the fire scene.

Photographs & Diagrams

A photo log and scene sketch is attached to this report.

nterviews & Investigation Activity

Interview with property owner Robert Rassier who told me the following:

- · He, his wife Rita and their son Daniel live at this residence;
- Evening prior to the fire from about 5:00 PM to 6:00 PM he was in his wood working shop staining a handrail for the house, applied three coats of stain using cotton rags, stain came from Mills Fleet he thought, there were warning labels on the can about discarding stain rags, when he was finished staining he threw the stain rags in a burning barrel outside;
- He went inside the house, shop was unlocked;
- He and Rita played cards with their next door neighbors till about 10:30 and then went to bed;
- Next thing he heard Dan holler about the fire, shop was on fire;
- . Thinks may a short in an extension cord caused the fire;
- No electrical problems, no one smokes, no candles burning, he was staining in the shop, no theft or vandalism problems, he burned in the woodstove about five days before the fire, no LP or Natural Gas, no welding or soldering, no unusual odors, no one is mad at him that he's aware of;
- There's been no new construction or wiring in the shop;
- There were extension cords plugged in inside the shop, nothing should have been on, some of his wood working tools are plugged in, there may have been a light on above the work bench;
- He and his wife are both retired, wife does allot of volunteer work;
- Financially there doing good;
- He's lived here since 1931, place isn't for sale;
- There's no mortgage on the place;
- Shop was built in the 1940's and the machine shed in the 1930's;
- Not behind in any debts and or taxes;
- · No lawsuits, liens and or judgments against them;
- Never filed bankruptcy, no prior fires;
- · His insurance agent is Peter Omann, St. Joseph Mutual;
- He's never been arrested or convicted of a crime and he didn't set the fire;

Interview with property owner's son Daniel Rassier who told me the following;

- Last time he was inside the shed was this past Saturday to say good bye to his dad because he was going to Minneapolis to run in a marathon;
- Wednesday night he did an errand for his dad, picked up a TV in St. Joseph from a Leander Meyer;
- · Got home about 10:00 PM and then went to bed;

- · Next thing heard some type of a noise outside, looked outside and saw the shop engulfed in flames;
- Tried calling 911 from house phone, house phone dead, called 911 from his moms cell phone;
- · Came outside tree house alongside wood shop was on fire;
- Outhouse alongside the shop is about 20 to 25 years ago, he used the outhouse this past week;
- · Flames were attacking the machine shed;
- · Overhead power lines were arcing;
- As firefighters were extinguishing flames there pet dog came out of the shop with a mouse in its mouth, thinks maybe a mouse chewed through something to cause the fire;

Conclusion

In my opinion based on information available at the time of the fire, my training, experience and scene examination I couldn't determine an exact area of origin and or definitive cause for this wood shop fire due to total destruction of the structure. This case shall be closed.

To Whom It may andern

Dear Miss. Metterling hay name is Sylvia Milhoan I would just would like to say I heard of Jacob disapperance on America Most Wanted back in 1989, you and your family have always been in my prayers. I am a mother of 2 boys and can only imagine your pain. I moved to the Akron/Canton area about 3 years ago from Colorado and was reading the paper when I came across this clipping. I seen the eyes of your Jacob. I in no way want to upset you. When I told my family I thought it was Jacob my family thought I was crazy. So I put the clipping away, but found it the other day while cleaning. Mrs. Wetterling I could not bring myself to throw it away. I finally got the nerve to report it to the missing and exploited children foundation, but thought that would take to long to get to you. This clipping is from the Canton Repository. I apoligize that I did not get the date is was printed. If you should have any questions please feel free to call me anytime day or night. You and your family will be in my prayers. Please forgive me, if this is not Jacob, but something very strong told me not to throw this clipping away.

Sincerely,

Sylvia Milhoan

On March 22, 2010 I received email from Patty Wetterling. She had typed some notes that she had taken about her and Jerry's visit with Robert Bernard Rassier, 11-20-24 and Rita Marie Raisser, 6/6/29 of 29748 91 Ave. St. Joseph Mn. The notes will be made part of this report.

On March 19, 2010 Jerry and I went to the house of Rita and Bob Rassier around 2:45 PM. Rita answered the door and greeted us warmly and invited us in. I brought them some Coborn's cookies and we sat at the table. She shared the story of how Bob got a notice that his driving license had been suspended. He didn't know why and that they had gone down to check on it and were told that it was activated again so they were kind of confused why that happened. Bob had gone to the store to get his chain saw blades as they had some trees that they needed to take down.

I shared with Rita the story about running into Dan last fall and Rick and Hope and Tai at midtown and that Dan had said some things that confused me. He talked about having a dream that someone did a search and found Jacob's body on their property and that they would blame him. I thought that was odd and I asked Dan about it. He said there were a lot of places where one could hide a body on their property so I told Rita that I had never been down there and I just had to come and see where they lived.

Shortly after we got there Bob returned so we all sat and visited. I told them that Dan had said some things that were confusing. Bob assured me that Dan had cooperated in every way...he'd been hypnotized and polygraphed and there was really no way that he had anything to do with Jacob's disappearance. He loves kids. He works with them every day. He talked about the pressure when Trish van Pilsum was doing her digging and how hard it was for Dan that they filmed him coming out of his school building. Everybody knew it was Dan that they were showing. He said if Dan were the type who would break it would have been then. It was awful. He talked about his daughter in law in tears over the investigation. "They're ruining this family."

I told them that maybe it started as a prank and then the guy got scared when the car turned around in their driveway. Bob said it wasn't a joke/prank.

They reiterated Dan's story about cars turning around in their driveway. He said there were 2 cars that afternoon at different times. We told him we had only heard of the one in the afternoon and the one that night. Bob is frustrated that LE doesn't believe Dan.

Bob also thought it was stupid that "they" drove 2 big pieces of equipment across the field and dug up the pit (I forget what it's called) He thought they were stupid because they didn't really comb through anything they just moved large loads from one place to another.

They talked about the search of the house and the amount of time they spent in Dan's room. Rita said that Dan has all of his running shirts packed into plastic containers...you can see what's inside them. She also said he's kind of a packrat and there's even more "stuff" in his room

I told them that I had asked Dan to look me in the eye and tell me that he didn't do it and didn't know where Jacob was and that he did that. I told them that I only wanted to find Jacob. I wasn't trying to punish or get even or do anything other than find Jacob. I said it was hard for me to understand how anyone could live with that on their conscience. They agreed.

I found it interesting that neither Dan nor Rick had told Rita or Bob that they had run into me at midtown and that we had talked. (I would love to go through his running shirts around that time and look for Jacob's shirt or running vest.)

They showed us their living room and shared the story of the daughter they had that died when she was 16. She had a bad valve or something and had had heart surgery but she died very young.

They are truly nice people. They can't fathom that their son had anything to do with Jacob's disappearance.

It is really isolated down there. I have trouble understanding of why Dan would have called the police on Oct 22. He said the dog was barking and he thought someone was stealing their wood but if he had Jacob, where was he when Dan called and why would he call? I can somewhat understand that if the police told him that they were looking for a boy that was missing that he could have just gone to bed. You really have no feel for what is going on at the top of the hill when you're down at the house...and if all they said was they were looking for a lost boy, Dan could have felt it was none of his business. They were not saying he was kidnapped that night so it may have felt way less urgent.

I left their house with hugs and a "stop any time" assurance from Rita and Bob. I felt quite unsure about Dan's involvement...he may be an odd duck but some things don't make sense.

I am hoping that our visit made am impression on them and that they would mention it to Dan. It also leaves an opening to you if you wanted to go there again. You could easily say that I had mentioned our visit and you had some follow up questions to something that I had told you from that visit...

They are really nice people and I am glad that we stopped. I also feel it would be easy to stop again if that would be helpful...

Last night at about 10:15 ( I was in bed) a woman called with "information."

At first she wouldn't tell me her name but I told her I wouldn't talk to her without a name so she at least told me

She is from St. Cloud but left in 1988 and returned to the area in 2002

She wasn't around when Jacob was kidnapped but heard of it when she returned.

She started dating a guy that lived next door to Rassier (Greg Lahr)

At the beginning of their relationship Greg started talking about Jacob and went on and on about it. He also shared quite a bit about how abusive his father was. (She couldn't remember the dad's name) She feels Greg knows something and maybe believes that his father was involved. Greg said that they were all questioned but she said he got really weird about Jacob and the whole story. Greg's probably mid 40's now ( maybe 47 or 48 years old) They apparently own 10 acres adjacent to Rassier. I believe she said that Greg was married and divorced. She claims that when you all brought in the digging stuff last summer, he immediately sold his home and moved to the twin cities.

She's quite convinced he has information and needs to be talked to.

She of course doesn't want to be caught in the middle of all this. She said it was eating her alive and when she saw me on the news last night ( with Senator Klobuchar) she had to call.

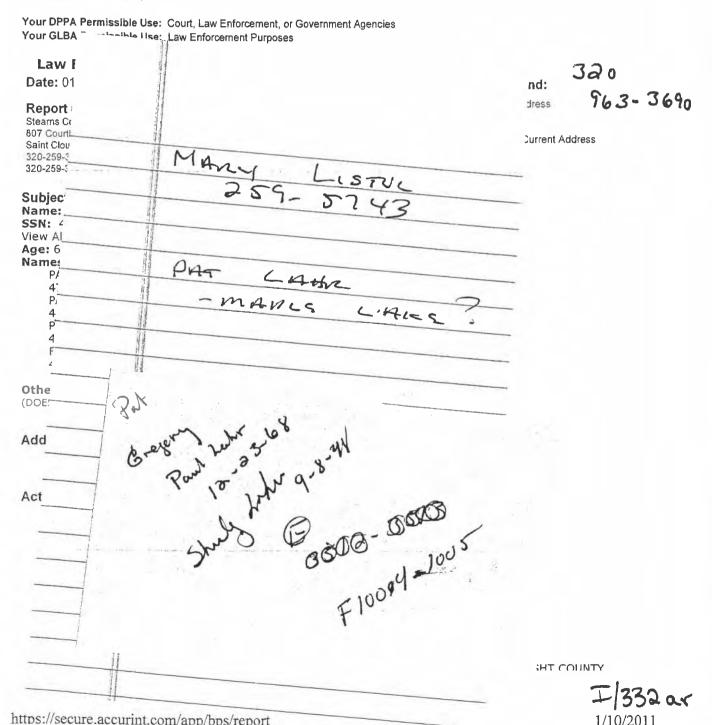

I'm glad I was able to calm her down so she could sleep...

I don't know much about the Lahr's family or property so I'm just passing on what I wrote down

I told her that I might call back if I had further questions but then again, I have no problem with you all talking to her directly...

Hello George:

Formal Complaint Letter pertaining to The Jacob Wetterling Investigation From: Dan Rassier 29748 91st Ave St. Joseph, MN 56374 320-363-8427 danielarassier@hotmail.com

Description of Incident: Jacob Wetterling vanished in October of 1989. My complaints deal with the investigation of this crime. I believe I have "done what's right and gone beyond what was expected in helping and cooperating in the crime's investigation. Law enforcement and their circle of protection have violated my family's civil rights as well as mine. They have abused the privileges of their power by crushing the rights of any innocent law abiding United States Citizen. They have been extremely slow and clumsy in dealing with the serious nature of their investigation. They have confused, changed, and "lost" critical witness accounts directly linked to this case. They have made unbelievable-horrible-errors which not only destroyed my life as I knew it but quite possibly destroyed Jacob's chances of ever coming home! They have physically assaulted my Mom and have made deliberate verbal attacks on my Dad to overwhelm him with stress and pain: They have "stolen" and damaged property belonging to us with warrants full of questions but no answers. They have not been honest with my parents, myself, media, and the public. They refuse to return a box of information which supports my witness accounts and has information which helps me deal with the situation they created. They know I plan on launching a lawsuit against a TV news station but refuse to turn over my research/property." They have used "BULLY" tactics to defame my name along with my family's name! I believe they have done much of this out of retaliation towards me for sticking with my original witness accounts and for being critical of their dishonest actions and statements. I realize many of my complaints may not even be of concern to your department but I find it impossible to state one thing without the other.

- #1. Stearns County Attorney Janelle P. Kendall 's office heard my complaints in early June of 2011 about what the Stearns County Sheriff, the Minnesota BCA, and the FBI did to my parents, family, and to myself. My complaints were "flushed" away without hesitation or further questions. In fact, the only action Attorney Kendall's office took was to report everything I said to the Stearns County Sheriff Department within the hour. In a letter from Attorney Kendall dated June 16, 2011, Attorney Kendall informed me that since she advises the Stearns County Sheriff Office, my inquiries regarding the investigation must go directly to the Sheriff's Office. She states "my office does not conduct further or additional investigation into active matters. This responsibility lies solely with the Sheriff's Office." It is alarming to think of all the knowledge & power The Stearns County Attorney's Office has in regards to law and how it is enforced and that's all my Stearns County Attorney could tell me?! The average citizen trusts them to "do the right thing" no matter who comes forward other than the Sheriff! My complaint with Attorney Kendall centers around her supporting the Sheriff's Office without question even after I alerted her office to "alleged wrong doing and physical assault." 14
- #2. Judge Vicki Landwehr is the judge who signed off on at least one of the search warrants used to gain access to my parent's property. If a person with such power is totally trusting of what the MN BCA/FBI/Sheriff Office present her, WHY BOTHER!? Law enforcement can come up with the needed "evidence" or "statements" or "out of context whatever" easy enough. It has become clear law enforcement took my emails, private conversations, and discussions with them and presented them out of context to Judge Vicki Landwehr. Apparently law enforcement has every legal right to lie, fabricate, retaliate, bully, harass, and physically assault a victim of circumstance if they choose to do so. When law enforcement met with me, they even tried to put doubt in my mind with all kinds of out of context quotes, videos, and accounts of my own doing. So I can easily understand how misleading they could be with a Judge using information the Judge isn't keenly aware of!. I would hope a Judge would attempt to get some information from the party in question before signing off on a<sub>17</sub> warrant. As a Judge, if you have 100% trust in law enforcement, WE ALL HAVE BIG PROBLEMS! I would hope the judge would stand as a sort of pillar of justice for all citizens! For Judge Landwehr to indicate "probable cause" in signing off on the warrant(s) is in itself evidence of not getting the full honest story behind law enforcement's flawed investigation! 18

- #3. Sheriff John Sanner is the Stearns County Sheriff. Sheriff Sanner allowed everything to happen without putting a stop to it as it got more and more out of hand. It is my belief that Sheriff Sanner's staff, the MN-BCA, and the FBI misrepresented my private & public statements and were behind questionable tactics including a "press leak" to Channel 9 TV News in early 2004. In speaking with him on July 1, 2010 in our farmyard, it became 100% clear that my family and I were being retaliated against for me being honest with Patty Wetterling and informing her how "STUPID" law enforcement has been. Sheriff Sanner SAID "This is what happens when you talk." He stated this exact statement twice. He refused to explain more about his statement. He has been a Sheriff too long to pretend that he is naive or ignorant about how the press works and how the public would react to the "farm invasion" on June 30 July 1, 2010. For Sheriff Sanner to allow this to all happen to my family defies logic and the rights of law abiding Stearns County Citizens! If anything, law enforcement could have called me in as in the past and discussed my comments! 2.3
- #4. Stearns County Captain Pam Jensen. Almost everything Capt. Jensen has said to me can't be trusted. I have too many examples to go through here but my examples portray a scary scenario. For example, Capt. Jensen left me a phone message on July 23, 2010 stating we would get a car and driver situation figured out, but she NEVER followed through and then when I pursued that issue in June of 2011, all she could do was get extremely upset I wouldn't let the issue die! I believe it is the game plan of law enforcement to change the facts of the case in order to stir up new leads. (BECAUSE this scenario involves a cover-up beyond belief, it is a critical point of their game plan to have me go along with changing the facts of this case even though it points fingers at me!)<sup>25</sup>I have listed several areas of concern below that happened on our farm on June 30 & July 1, 2010 when Captain Pam Jensen was in charge. 26
- 27*My Dad was treated like he had two loaded guns pointed at the police! He still is overwhelmed by the unbelievable tactics the police used when he made a comment about a TV news reporter.
  - *My Mom was physically assaulted within our house by MN-BCA Agent Kenneth McDonald.
  - *My parents and myself were threatened with arrest during a disturbing "house break-in" carried out by law enforcement.
  - *We were forced to leave our farm without any type of due process. It was total chaos on the part of law enforcement.
  - *I was allowed to handle weapons and secure them in my car.
  - *All weapons should have been collected first thing on June 30th, 2010. Obviously, this was not done.
  - *Several statements were made by Captain Pam Jensen that were proven later to just not be truthful.

    *Law enforcement labeled me as "A Person Of Interest". Capt. Jensen called me a "Suspect". Should they have allowed me to room about and bondle weapons as several unarmed law enforcement people.
  - *Law enforcement labeled me as "A Person Of Interest". Capt, Jensen called me a "Suspect". Should they have allowed me to roam about and handle weapons as several unarmed law enforcement people relaxed for breaks/lunch?
  - *Law enforcement didn't protect their own interests. I obtained DNA samples from most of the agents on our farm July 1, 2010.
  - *Promises were made to my parents and myself about the search that never were honored.
  - *Huge areas of the farm along with specific spots were not searched. Why search if you are going to be so "haphazard" about it?
  - *On the first day of the surprise search, I was not home the whole day. A lapse in planning?
- 3 #5. Kenneth McDonald is the MN BCA Agent who interviewed me on February 7, 2004 in The Stearns County Law Enforcement Center with Capt. Pam Jensen present. He had my past statements of all kinds that were intended to help solve the case. He turned them upsidedown & backwards & out of context and used them against me. He selected his "ideas" from hours of tapes/files/reports and information intended to be used to solve the crime; not to send it off down the wrong road. He twisted my witness reports and injected them into his new ideas or theories. He has taken my accounts, dismissed them, and replaced them with false accounts which never have been clarified to me! On July 1, 2010, Kenneth McDonald was the person who physically assaulted my Mom as she sat on a kitchen chair. She was pulled off the chair by Kenneth McDonald and dragged to the floor for a short distance and then pushed out of her house. Her left arm was black and blue for a week afterwards. I am filled with trepidation in thinking about what Kenneth McDonald could be capable of if he goes unchecked from here on out!

#6. The FBI was represented by Shane A. Ball. Shane is the only FBI person to give me his card and chat with me a bit. I have no complaints directly against Shane A. Ball. But how can the FBI be involved with such a disaster of an investigation? Maybe I watch too much TV or something, but has anyone out there heard of the telephone where you just call up a person to get information instead of tapping their phone line/emails/and making them go through what a real criminal would go through? Because all of this is so crazy, I can't hardly bring myself to believe the FBI is involved.

My comments below reflect basic issues connected to my complaints.

*My witness accounts have been abused, forgotten, changed, and have never really been put to the true test of helping solve this crime! The ironic twist revolves around law enforcement changing up the whole car theory which they never got right to begin with! They never gave me any indication they truly understood and remembered what I witnessed. To make matters worse, law enforcement can't tell me all kinds of details about the car they insist I saw. They have refused to clear this rather simple but case altering detail with me! I have even told them how it can be cleared up and they only get extremely upset with me for being persistent about what I witnessed. It is of my 100% belief, the two cars I witnessed in our farm yard on Sunday - October 19, 1989 were responsible for Jacob Wetterling's disappearance. The two different cars were definitely driven by the same driver. 31

*I've reminded law enforcement of how wrong they are. For it to come to this mess is unbelievable! This isn't just a misunderstanding. This is law enforcement in the U.S.A. being a BULLY and trying to force a witness to agree with their theory. (They now insist Jacob was taken by someone on foot and Jacob wasn't transported in a car. Thus, the person who kidnapped Jacob must live within a short distance.) The details about the cars involved are quite simple but can seem complicated if all the facts are not put on the table at once! Law enforcement continues to completely miss basic facts and track down what I've been telling them for over 22 years.

When I go public again, I do not intend on being supportive of law enforcement and their circle of protection. Can't anyone in these organizations get it together and get the details correct? "Can't anyone be what an American should be and step forward into the realm of what is real without changing the facts? I handed law enforcement everything I could and have found they LOST IT and have destroyed my life as I knew it. 34 b

No innocent witness should ever have to go through what I have gone through with my family. In other words, I'm not fighting for just myself and my family! I will fight law enforcement and their protective circle in order to achieve the freedom American's are promised to have under the constitution. That freedom has been destroyed by law enforcement's power to lie, cheat, threaten, harass, bully, steal, invade privacy, verbally and physically assault, and to ruin a person's life without due process. The irony here is how freedom's ring has been silenced by the people entrusted to uphold freedom! This is NOT The American Way!!! 36

I do realize under the law the police are allowed to lie when questioning me. However, are they allowed to lie to the public or give a false perception to the public/media at my expense when I'm innocent!? Is it considered legal for law enforcement to give the public the perception I am guilty of something when I'm not?! Is law enforcement allowed to create a horrible environment for me to work/live in and not come through with a quick conclusive verdict regarding my involvement? To leave my family and myself hanging in the ugly winds of suspicion and evil, is a most brutal harassment on a daily basis!<sup>37</sup> This is NOT rocket science or Twilight Zone or some sort of CSI episode that never ends! This is a family's real life and time has run out for law enforcement to realize it has committed a horrific injustice! And if that isn't enough, what about

Jacob? If not just for the Wetterlings, can we please get the facts straight and start from the beginning? Is there anyone out there willing to realize the pathetic mess law enforcement has created!? Is there anyone who can come forward and help me - help them? 39

I believe law enforcement is partly responsible for creating the monster news story in February-March of 2004. False perceptions were created by this "TV investigative report" with just lots of spliced & diced editing. The reporter did this without my knowledge after I spend 2.5 hours with her and explained why I didn't wish to go on air with my story. I also explained how my witness accounts were only known (I thought!?) by law enforcement. It was obvious, this reporter got what I would call private information from law enforcement. All of her editing involved recordings I didn't know existed. Her story created hell for me even back in 2004 and goes on to the present. Fast forward to the Fall of 2009 when Patty Wetterling and law enforcement set up a meeting with me. I believe Patty watched this false TV news story several times over the years and anyone who doesn't know the truth would almost have to conclude from the investigative report that I was a very strong suspect! To my knowledge, law enforcement made no attempt to correct this investigative news story. So, with that, Patty doesn't realize I am maybe the only person that can help her find Jacob at this point and what does she do?" She participates in a set-up with law enforcement designed to obtain sound bits that can be spliced and diced to suit law enforcement wishes! The set-up was discovered because law enforcement was clumsy and just too predictable.

Law enforcement has talked to many people I know and have followed so many disturbing theories in their questions, it's downright embarrassing! If you can, imagine a bit how it feels to be me, an innocent person learning of authority figures going around asking all kinds of troubling questions about me as well as about my family, friends, and colleagues. It tears me apart inside and makes my head spin as to how law enforcement seems to be going unchecked in this type of practice.

NO one has truly come forward and used my witness accounts about the two cars to Jacob's advantage! Not one sheriff, NOT one FBI Agent, NOT one detective, NOT one person came forward and acted on my information! NOT even the Channel 9 News investigative reporter that defamed me! Instead, they dug up our farm just because a dog picked up on my imagination or my talk with Patty was taken the wrong way? YOU'VE GOT TO BE KIDDING! I've heard of incompetence, mistakes, misunderstandings, sloppy police work, or whatever you want to call it, but this whole investigation is not just a nightmare! It is also reality for my family and myself. It is rare that a night passes, I don't wake up thinking about it. There has to be someone in the world of law enforcement that can get this investigation on the trail of the kidnapper and not on a simple witness who did what was right! 45

If you read all of this and have become confused, picture this if you can. As I type this over 22 years after the kidnapping happened, I can't imagine the pain the Wetterlings still feel. If the Wetterlings truly understood what has happened to this investigation, they would realize so much more pain. I don't think they can imagine the pain that has been inflicted into our family. I believe law enforcement realizes but will deny how their actions have inflicted a major injustice to the Rassier family. To destroy our family's name the way they did because they had a "Hunch!" is in itself, a serious crime. Nothing can make it right now. The damage has been done. But to leave the whole thing open to speculation and open to the public's imagination is just wrong! The bottom-line is to find out what happened to Jacob and this still can be accomplished but not with the current people in charge! You don't find someone by destroying others in the process. You find someone by following and investigating and playing out the facts! We have had so many people on this case, they have not only lost it but also have lost Jacob. Please, I'm begging --- who can help?

Leading questions: Should law enforcement present media with information that can be easily misintrepretated and then allow them to spin it? In other words, do you support the truth to be taken out of context, spun every which way, and in no time, everyone is confused including law enforcement?

Is it right to assume probable cause when law enforcement has put out so much false information through media that people involved with the case begin to believe what they have heard through the media?

Why does law enforcement and their circle of protection continue to bully others? Their job is to find the guilty and go from there. Their job is not to find the innocent and portray them as "suspects" and then end of story! Thus, to cover their tracks, law enforcement will rarely admit to mistakes and would rather just keep destroying their rapport with society by demonstrating this bully behavior! Sometimes it takes a video or recording to expose their tactics. Sometimes law enforcement will admit to wrong doing when hard evidence is discovered. What will it take for law enforcement to come forward here and correct all the wrongs they have pushed forward? For them to continue this bully type behavior just doesn't help solve the case. They have to understand they have created a wave of mistrust with not just me but many others.

If nothing good comes of this complaint, at least I tried to convince someone we have serious problems in this investigation which have gone unchecked for over 22 years! Every missing child deserves a real chance to have his/her case solved no matter how late it might be. Jacob never really had his chance yet. Can we at least give him that?

In our age of cyberspace and high tech magic and CSI, how can we be having this Jacob Wetterling Crime still unsolved and turning more and more into complete chaos with law enforcement being completely oblivious to it all! We need to seek out truth and justice in order to possibly solve this case. We will not solve it by pushing forth lies and theories based on what didn't happen! Like any unsolved crime, Jacob Wetterling and his family along with the public deserve nothing less than the truth.

Thank You for your attention and concern.

Respectfully,

Dan Rassier

KIMT CBS, Mason City, Iowa

To whom it may concern;

I am currently working my way through a very painful divorce as this following situation developed in the spring of 2012. I am writing to all the above offices in hopes and prayers that this painful story that I am sharing has the proper eyes on and that the lives touched by what has been described can finally have the proper closer.

The young lady that I have been aiding since I became aware of her story and the horrid connections within both my career with the Minnesota Army National Guard and as a member of the Spring Lake Park, Blaine, Mounds View Fire Department as well as a Call When Needed fire fighter for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources.

had just gone through 28 years of being overdosed on psychotropic medications; both prescribed on the request of family as well as additionally dosed by family members. She has also gone through 60 Electrical Cognitive Therapies, several over the dosage limits prescribed by the FDA.

Much of this abuse was to keep her quiet, controlled and complacent to the wishes of her family members.

We are trying to work this situation through the courts, however with the actual seriousness of her story I pray more can be done than to just sit and wait with our fingers crossed.

It is I that is sharing her story that she entrusted me with and I am compelled to share in hopes the proper law enforcement and legal actions be done and I report this story on the good faith that a serious crime has occurred and the facts been obstructed intentionally to protect those who are responsible.

This situation really changed in May of 2013 when an unidentified individual claimed he was one Jerry Kaiser, who is currently in Stillwater for multiple sex offences, threated both and near Kim and my Lexington, Minnesota home.

We had also seen this individual in the Taco John's in Little Falls this past March, but he did not make any direct contact at that time.

I had first met Jerry back in 1986 when he was assaulting a 15 year unidentified girl in the White Castle on 36th Ave S. and Lake Street in South Minneapolis where I was assigned as a Security Guard for SLP Security.

I had stopped the assault but was alarmed when the responding officers refused everyone's statements including the victims, the handful of witnesses there and myself, nor look at the video coverage of the incident.

We had been friends of Dale Blom, his sister Pam Carter and 1996 and witnessed Dale's harsh treatment of

and T.J.'s daughter

Amarra which was often verbally and emotionally abusive. Kim and I often discussed what had happened during holiday and family visits and the frustration of not being able to turn him in since not only was he a Hennepin County Corrections Officer, but a Teamster Union Officer and demanded that everyone supports his side of the story no matter what and that the county works for him.

I had attempted to gain Kim's my wife of 25 support since had moved into our home June of 2012 and was coming over to help clean our house since neither Kim nor Dale's sister Cheri, who is also living in the home since 2008, can clean effectively due to both their medical needs.

However at that time we both knew that Dale had himself and four Minnesota Army National Guard Sergeants sexually assaulted her when she was 17 at Camp Ripley, Minnesota in 1993 and Dale would brag how he was discharged with an Honorable due to Pregnancy rather than a Dishonorable Discharge so he could maintain his employment with Hennepin County Corrections.

Around St. Patrick's Day 2013 someone lit a loud fire work in front of our Lexington Home causing began to have a flashback to some traumatic events of her past which turned out she was releasing nonpublic information from the 1999 Katie Poirier Search where I was tasked to assist through the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources as a call when need fire fighter. I was part of a detail to assist in the search around the cabin property of Donald Blom, alleged cousin of Dale Blom. Although Dale Blom and his sisters Pam Carter and Cheri Kelsey will deny the relationship claiming they don't know who Donald is.

I attempted to fulfill the final request of the Carlton County Investigations on our debrief from the Katie Poirier that if we should ever come across anyone discussing details of the case that we were to attempt to protect them and get law enforcement support for their statement.

However since spent 1 year in Hennepin County Jail and 12 years' probation for being an accomplish to the sexual assault against her by Jerry Kaiser in 2000 where Jerry forced to watch while the said assault occurred in the residences of Dale Blom at collaborated story as well as state how Dale would force at age 12 into preforming sex parties with multiple adult males. However the fear instilled in both and is very severe with threats of death, false arrests and long prison terms if anybody tells on what Dale has been doing. For this does not want to see be jailed and is frightened for her life.

had spent much of her childhood and was just recently removed from psychotropic medications that had been missed prescribed and misused against her by her family.

We first spoke to law enforcement agents from Anoka County CID, then to Carlton County and Polk County, Wisconsin all are requesting mental health validation of her story before taking her statement.

However since the mental health providers have realized what had happen and have backed off for fear of revenge from rather than to work with us. We last saw True Balance in Fort Ripley, Minnesota when we realized that any support from mental health professional in Minnesota was going to be futile.

As started to release information that I was aware as sensitive to the Katie Poirier Kim became hostile at the start claiming to be a fabricated liar. Since that was what Dale had told us for years about and that he had the right to ruin her life since ruined his National Guard Career.

In April of 2013 I was able to obtain enough witnessed events to prove that was being overdosed by her family to keep her secrets quiet and that the overdosing included the fact the medications she was on where at a dosage dangerously beyond FDA requirements and that and where giving additional dosages beyond what was prescribed.

The dosage was so high that a paradoxical effect was occurring and turned out much of her mental health history was caused by an intentional over dose by others she trusted. I was able to turn over the information of what I had witnessed to then moved into our home as a safe haven and Kim and Cheri forced into isolation by demanding she stayed in the back bedroom rarely giving permission to shower, eat or clean the house.

The rest is the story ' had shared to me over the past year;

r was 9 years old when her father ___ sexually assaulted in 1985. Her mother | at the same time was increasingly psychically abusive toward ___ for unknown or explained causes and ____ nded up without either family or county social services support.

's mother then divorced. In 1987 and in 1988; oldest sister of Dale Blom moved into the farm next door to I Monticello, Minnesota home with horses that attracted and her mother to take a closer look. There she met Dale Blom and his cousin Donald.

Shortly after meeting the Blom's, Donald began sexually assaulting ing her with bribes of candy and horse rides followed by threats against her life. Dale Blom eventually joined in but Dale and Donald begun fighting between each other over who owned, even though she was only 12 years old.

In October 1989 an away from home to get away from the abusiveness and sexual exploitations of Dale and Donald Blom, which included prostituting to local police officers throughout the North and Northwest Metro Communities. Dale began this venture due to starting his employment with Hennepin County Corrections.

hitched hiked her way to South Minneapolis from Monticello but was soon caught by Dale and Donald. ttempted to run, but was pulled into Donald's van and was transported to St. Josephs, MN to pick up a boy that Donald was targeting. It was Dale's service revolver that was used to lure the boy into the van.

was bounded, gagged and blindfolded for the drive to St. Josephs and after the boy was picked up there they proceeded to Donald's cabin in Carlton County southeast of Moose Lake, just North of Minnesota Highway 23.

Being blindfolded was unaware of who was driving and who was riding in the back of the van with her and the pleading boy. He repeatedly stated his name as Jacob Whetterling. She wrenched in pain as Jacob was repeatedly sexually assaulted by the assailant and their ordering him to "Be a man." and as they forced Jacob into sexually assault!

Afterwards the assailant that was in the back of the van begun stabbing Jacob with a knife as they continued to drive to Donald Blom's Moose Lake cabin site. The knifing was punishment for Jacob refusing and resisting their demands.

Jacob survived his wounds and was alive for several days as he was chained to a post that was just outside of the cabin. However he was forced to watch as Dale and Donald repeatedly sexually assaulted and was killed for refusing to comply with their demands for Jacob to join in.

Jacob's remains where then cremated and remaining bone fragments were deposited in the swamping marsh that surrounded the cabin site. After Dale and Donald finished deposing of the remains they brought home with threats of death if she would ever speak to anyone about what had happed.

October 1990 discovers that she was 9 months pregnant with her Dale Blom was a member in the Minnesota Army National Guard as a Military Police Officer with the 34th MP Company. Dale was attending a 3 week annual training in Panama when hostilities between Panama Defense Forces and the U.S. Military broke out. Since Dale was 13 years senior to 1, who was only 13 at the time he was immediately sent home.

Once home Dale threated Buffalo Hospital staff and demand to hold his daughter while the hospital was refusing because was a minor. After discharging home, Dale forced his way into s and her mother's Big Lake home and abducted his daughter and! fter Pam Carter failed in her attempt to suffocate with a pillow and sitting on her. Both and her daughter was then taken by force to Dale's Brooklyn Center apartment on 73rd and Zane.

In the spring of 1993 was brought into Spring Lake Park Blaine Mounds View Fire Station One by a local neighbor who had found her hiding in Spring Lake Park's Lion's Park two blocks away from the fire station.

She was severely anxious and had a systolic blood pressure of 210 and very panicky. I was the only Fire Fighter EMT on duty that day and was taking her vital signs, but was unable to gain a complete patient history due to the interruptions of then Fire Chief Ron Faggerstrom who had to be removed from the radio room. Allina Ambulance arrived and took to Mercy Hospital.

I was later told by I that she had been heavily drugged up from medications Dale stole from Hennepin County Corrections and had been sold for a sex party that involved Ron Faggerstrom, and unidentified Fridley Police Officer and several others. She was bound to the far bed in the Kitchen/ Lounge area of Station One and was repeatedly sexually assaulted, at that time she was only 16.

In July 1993 during the annual training attended a family day event sponsored by the 34th MP Company. This event include an overnight stay by family members but following day Dale and four of his Sergeants took across the cantonment area and repeatedly sexually assaulted her as they took her from the Camp Ripley Water Treatment Plant and into several building of Area 3.

The assault ended when the group was walked in on by higher leadership and found nude, spread eagle with a police baton in her vagina and tied to the rafters of a tin hutment that wasn't being used; but was set up for the assault ahead of time.

got dress, but then escape from the group running across the airfield and hiding in the Valhalla Cabin Site. Dale Blom claimed that was severely mentally ill and had encouraged the attack, even though at the time was 17. Dale and his four accomplices where removed from the National Guard with Dale taking an honorable due to pregnancy discharge. His four accomplices are Minneapolis Police Officers. None of these assailants where ever charge for the sexual assault.

After the assault at Camp Ripley the five met up with Donald Blom at his Moose Lake cabin with a that he abducted from Minneapolis. and where both blindfolded and chained together on the post, being separated from time to time as they were sexually assaulted by the group. Once they had terrorized enough was killed while still chained to the post and the group pour bleach across and in and body to destroy all physical evidence.

In order to throw off any investigator the group dumped s remains alongside the St. Croix River just North of Dresser, Wisconsin. Her skeletal remains would not be found for several months later.

In the fall of 2014 remains had been identified and we made contact with Polk County Sheriff's Office which said they would turn the information over to the Minnesota BCA, however at this time we had no contact from them.

In June 1995 I was brought up to Donald Blom's Moose Lake cabin site by Dale and Donald for by force for sexual play. While there when the four individuals that had raped in 1993 had arrived with other girls in their cars, one of the officers had abducted Jodi Huisentruit.

Jodi Huisentruit was a reported from Mason City, lowa that had been on the side investigating the disappearance of Jacob Whetterling and had got too close to the truth and was abducted by Minneapolis Police near her home and brought to Moose Lake.

After two days of sexual assaults and torture of the five victims all but where killed cremated and the bone fragments where again deposited in the swamp that surround the property.

In 1996 my soon to be ex-wife Kim Munz takes a job as a bus aide with Ryder Student Transportation in Golden Valley, Minnesota and made friends with Pam Carter who was also a bus aide. was also working there but Pam interfered with any friendship with Kim or me calling a worthless slut.

In the summer of 1998 Dale Blom brings to Las Vegas for a family vacation. While in Las Vegas is forced into marriage or face abandonment in Las Vegas without her daughters. Throughout the brief marriage Dale is extremely abusive to and she stated that he repeatedly dry fired his service handgun to her head to obtain compliancy as well as injecting her with medications stolen from Hennepin County Corrections.

In the early part of 1999 escapes Dale's abusiveness and disappears without her daughters in hopes that Dale would take care of them without being abusive. She turns up near Tampa Bay where she was arrested for domestic assault by a man and woman that where using her as a sex toy.

The charges were dropped as Dale recovered her from Florida and brought her home in the spring of 1999 then he brought her to Donald Blom's cabin to again torment her into compliancy.

Donald in search of a victim to use to torment abducts Katie Poirier from the Little Store and and Katie are chained to the post together both are sexually assaulted by Dale and Donald.

The others from the 1993 sexual assault of at Camp Ripley arrived and with young girls which the group had forced into prostitution, these girls had been teenage run-aways that the officers "Collected". All are sexually assaulted, tortured, killed and remains cremated and fragments thrown in the swamp, except . Donald Blom had protected her.

While trying to dispose the remaining bone fragments, Dale and his Minneapolis Police friends turned on Donald as a liability and attempted to kill him. During the scuffle bone fragments where dropped.

recovered two bone fragments by swallowing one and putting another up her vagina. While the six remain fighting slipped into the woods dropping her blindfold and yellow tank top and continued fighting her way through the thickets in the dark and stumbled into a pile of garbage bags that where east of the cabin site.

These bags where filled with the clothes of the group's victim as well as additional clothes recovered from donation collection boxes from throughout the Twin Cities, again to throw off investigators if needed.

Pulling a bag opened she found a set of clothes that fit her and remained hidden in the woods until it was safe to recover the bone fragments and deposit them in the fire pit after everyone left. ' then retuned into the woods to hide and tried work her way to Dresser, Wisconsin in order to find help since she had no trust in Minnesota Law Enforcement from her experiences.

remained hidden in the woods for two weeks before getting caught in a deep water filled hole that had a tree branch above it, but could not reach it. Donald Blom had been searching the area for hoping to find her before searcher of the Katie Poirier Search Team found her and transported ck to Minneapolis.

Right after dropping off Donald was arrested for his role in the disappearance of Katie Poirier. One of the two bone fragments had a tooth in it that had viable DNA that match the Poirier family the other bone was too badly damaged to have any viable DNA and may had been one of the other victims killed that weekend.

The other girls that where killed where all part of a human trafficking ring that was ran by these five individuals and is the sole survivor due to the part that Donald Blom's refused to allow her to be killed. The four Minneapolis Police Officers had been running the ring since the early 1980's. The human trafficking ring had been liquidated and the men went on with their lives.

After Katie Poirier incident and Dale Blom had numerous run in with the law with Dale using his Hennepin County Corrections Connections to dodge any responsibility of his actions.

Lake Park, Blaine, Mounds View Fire Department with the help of judges of Hennepin County to enable them in their crimes.

Regrettably I fear for our lives as I try to get her story known.

Since last year I have had three cell phones destroyed by active hacking and eavesdropping from an unknown source and within the past few weeks of this spring our cell phones begun having those same behaviors that had occurred last summer.

I make this sworn and true statement of my own freewill and conscious and pray that justice will be served respectfully and responsibly.

Teen agers and minors forced into prostitution are the victims first and always. The failure that these men created is a disgrace to the badges and oath of office that they failed to fulfil. Any law enforcement officer actively engaging and forcing minors into prostitution are no different than fire fighters that choose to be an arsonist;

Joseph L. Gieseke, 62, of Spring Lake Park, died on Sunday, May 27, 2012 at the VA Hospital in Minneapolis. A funeral will be held at 11:00 am, Thursday, May 31, 2012 at Grace United Methodist Church in Paynesville. Burial will be in Paynesville Cemetery on Thursday, June 7, 2012. A visitation will be one hour prior to the service a the church. Arrangements are with Johnson Funeral Home in Paynesville.

Joseph Layne Gieseke was born on May 12, 1950, in Paynesville, the son of William and Delia (Schmidt) Gieseke. He grew up in Paynesville where he attended Paynesville Elementary School and graduated from Paynesville High School in 1968. After high school, Joe entered the United States Army. He served his country in Vietnam until his honorable discharge. After he returned home, Joe attended Dunwoody Institute where he received a degree in Mechanical Drafting. After receiving his degree, he moved to Spring Lake Park where he went to work for Onan's Manufacturing. Joe worked for them for many years before going out on his own working as a private contractor.

Joe was a private person with a gentle soul. He was slow to anger and always looked to help someone in need. Joe enjoyed candle making, bird watching, gardening, and spending time with his pets.

Joseph L. Gieseke died on Sunday, May 27, 2012 at the VA Medical Center in Minneapolis. He is survived by his siblings, Wanda "Skip" (and husband Calvin "Fritz") Domke of Cold Spring, Tom Burr of Paynesville; sister-in-law, Donna Burr of Litchfield; many nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Joe was preceded in death by his parents; four brothers; and a sister

Technique Sets the Truth Free

A lie detector expert says he can tell fact from fiction by considering what people don't say.

Paying attention to details helps expert get to the bottom of truth

Reprinted from "The Orlando Sentinel" Orlando, Florida, Monday, September 23, 1991

by Christopher Quinn, of the Sentinel Staff

Most people know the story of wise King Solomon and the mothers of the two newborn babies. When one mother found her baby dead, she tried to claim the other child as her own. King Solomon was called to mediate.

Solomon suggested dividing the living baby in half. One woman screamed "No!" prompting Solomon to decide her reaction displayed motherly love and she should get the child.

Avinoam Sapir says Solomon could have saved himself the effort by using Sapir's technique for identifying liars.

Sapir is teaching investigators nationwide how to get at the truth by analyzing what people say.

"Most people don't lie," said Todd Brown, a Seminole County detective. "People will tell us what happened, but we don't listen."

Brown is one of 3,500 people trained by Sapir, a lie detector expert and former Israeli police officer in Scientific Content Analysis Scanning. The premise is that people almost always tell the truth, even when trying to lie. The truth is just hidden when people lie, Sapir says.

He says that when crime suspects or victims are interviewed, the way they use the words "we" or "he and I" are profoundly important in detecting deception.

"What they omit is usually more important that what they've told you," Brown said in an interview.

Sapir developed his technique after noticing a pattern in confessions. In most cases, when people admitted crimes their confessions did not contradict earlier statements.

In one such case a few years ago a woman was being interviewed about the death of her husband. She said she heard a shot, walked into a room and saw her husband in a pool of blood. All of that was true.

The woman just failed to mention that she was the one who had pulled the trigger. Nothing in her eventual confession contradicted her first statements.

Also important is the order in which people relate events. Consider King Solomon's case. The first woman told the king, "Her son is dead. Mine is alive," but the second said, "My son is alive. Hers is dead."

For the baby's real mother, Sapir says, "it was important to her that the baby would remain alive," so she mentions that detail first. The other mother was more interested in seeing the living baby die, so she mentioned that first.

Another example Sapir cites comes from a Dear Abby letter. A woman wrote that her son had some sort of a problem but her husband was not understanding. She wanted to know what she could do to make her husband understand.

But in the letter, the woman mentioned herself, her son and her son's dog before she mentioned her husband. And she gave the names of her son and the dog but didn't name her husband.

"She rates the dog ahead of her husband," Brown said, showing that her real problem is with her husband, not the husband's relationship with the son.

Sapir has used his technique to analyze a 30-year-old Jupiter woman's allegations that William Kennedy Smith raped her March 30. Sapir obtained transcripts of five police interviews with the woman. His 50-page report concludes: "He didn't rape her. It's as simple as that."

Sapir said the woman's statements are filled with contradictions and that her memory is hazy. In the statements she admits taking a muscle relaxant and having five drinks later. The muscle relaxant should not have been mixed with alcohol.

"This is really amazing," Sapir said. "Nobody looked at what she really said."

Another part of Sapir's program is a questionnaire he developed. Crime victims or suspects are asked to answer open- ended questions.

Brown used the questionnaire recently when a young boy accused his mother's boyfriend of abuse. Brown asked the mother and the boyfriend to answer questions about the allegation.

The mother was not a suspect, but she wrote statements in which she, on the surface, denied abusing the child. Her answers actually told Brown not only that she was abusing the child but that she was doing so because she despised the boy's father. Her answers also told Brown she didn't think she would be caught.

The case is pending.

Brown was concerned that publicity about the questionnaire and Sapir's methods would help criminals figure out how to defeat the technique. Sapir said that is impossible.

"I don't mind giving the crook the questionnaire for three days to go and sleep on it. If he answers he will fail," Sapir said.

In fact, one investigator trained by Sapir later became an embezzlement suspect. He filled out the questionnaire and failed it, basically confessing to the crime even as he attempted to deny it.

Once investigators detect deception using Sapir's technique, they can confront their suspects in attempts to gain confessions.

The technique would be helpful in many professions, Brown said. Doctors could use it to elicit information from patients who are embarrassed about an illness. Salesmen could use it to find out what prospective customers are thinking.

So far, Brown is the only person in Central Florida to take the course, and he said he's still a novice. But he's already putting his training to use in a number of cases. He said the technique is just one of many tools at his disposal for solving crimes.

The training in not easy. It comes in the form of a $600, four-day seminar in which students work for about 12 hours a day. The next Florida seminar is in December in Miami. Brown hopes more investigators attend.

"Look," he said. "People want to tell you what they've done. They want to confess to you. We just have to listen."

SCAN: Deception Detection by Scientific Content Analysis

by Tony Lesce

Police investigators repeatedly question people who may be untruthful, or who may have an interest in concealing information. Therefore, investigators need a method of separating fact from fiction. "SCAN" can help them do this.

Various systems of deception detection have been devised. Some depend on analyzing the subject's body language; one consists of watching the movements of the subject's eyes. Gestures vary with nationality and culture, and can be misleading to someone unfamiliar with the culture and who doesn't understand the code. In the United States, with inhabitants from many cultures, this can be confusing.

Avinoam Sapir, a former Israeli police lieutenant, teaches a four- day course in SCAN in which he instructs police officers in how to obtain and analyze subject's statements. He began his career as a polygraph examiner for the Israeli police while working on his master's degree in criminology at Tel-Aviv University. In 1981, he began to conduct classes in SCAN for American agencies, such as U.S. Customs, Social Security Administrations, and others. He has led seminars for a variety of American and foreign police and investigative agencies. Among them are: U.S. Immigration & Naturalization Service, U.S. Army Criminal Investigative Division, U.S. Army Military Intelligence, Saskatchewan Police College, Canada, Ohio Association of Polygraph Examiners, Royal Australian Police College, the American Society for Industrial Security, and the FBI Academy.

How SCAN Works

SCAN depends heavily upon analyzing the statement, not upon observing "kinesics" or "body language". The basic premise is that the structure and contents of a subject's statement reveal whether there's an attempt at deception. SCAN is cross-cultural, in the sense that an interrogator can conduct an analysis in any language he understands.

According to Sapir, at least 90% of statements made are truthful, and most people do not attempt to lie directly. Instead, they hedge, omit crucial facts, feign forgetfulness, and pretend ignorance. The reason for this is that liars are reluctant to commit themselves to their deceptions, instead preferring to use conversational tricks to avoid damaging admissions.

Some use tricks, such as answering a question with a question, or glossing over critical points in the narrative. Another trick is bridging gaps with uninformative statements such as; "We talked" (about what?), or "afterwards" (after what?).

SCAN studies speech patterns, seeking tell-tale signs of deception by analyzing both structure and contents of statements. To do so, it is first necessary to obtain a suitable "pure" statement from the subject.

Obtaining A Pure Statement

Experienced investigators know that the most difficult way to obtain beneficial information is the simple question-and-answer routine, with the subject answering "yes" or "no". The point in eliciting a statement is to ask open-ended questions to avoid prompting the subject and encourage spontaneity, with the subject providing new information in response to the questions.

Investigators should ask as few specific questions as possible to avoid introducing their own information into the subject's statements. This is the well-known principle: "Get, don't give." At all costs, the interrogator avoids letting the subject know what he already knows or doesn't know. By giving the subject as little information and coaching as possible, the investigator seeks to obtain an uncontaminated version of the events. The preferred form is first-person, past tense.

This is essential because, as Sapir makes the point in his seminar, the interviewer cannot be objective. He has before him a file on the case, and probably has performed some investigation himself. If he has interviewed other subjects, or examined physical evidence, he's already developed some facts. This makes it very hard not to arrive at some conclusions, and an effort must be made to keep his ideas from contaminating the testimony. Most subjects will talk with relatively little encouragement or coercion. Even if the subject shows reluctance, it's often possible to cajole him into making a statement by using authority or by persuading him that he needs to unburden himself. In other cases, the investigator can condition the subject into being responsive by asking him a series of innocuous questions. Once the subject begins responding to simple questions, such as his name and address, it is difficult for him to stop, and the skillful interrogator can lead him gradually into a discussion of sensitive topics. Sapir advises that the investigator should admit defeat only if the subject digs in his heels and states:"I don't want to talk" in response to several efforts.

Sapir points out that eliciting a statement is not a 50/50 proposition. He considers an interrogation successful if the subject speaks about 95% of the time, and the investigator only about 5%. This minimizes the investigator's contribution to the final statement. He states it even more dramatically: "The person is dead. The statement is alive," to show that the person's words are more important than the person himself.

The need to avoid contamination is paramount. Sapir counsels interrogators not to introduce any topic into the conversation unless the subject first mentions it. This ensures that every fact or allegation the interrogator elicits comes from the subject, and not from another source.

Analyzing Structure

It's not necessary to see the subject to analyze his statement. The interview is necessary only to obtain a statement, and the tool for SCAN is really the statement itself. The investigator goes over the statement word by word, line by line, teasing out important and subtle details with Scientific Content Analysis.

Speech patterns help distinguish between statements originating in memory or imagination. Often, pronoun use shows deception, such as an alleged kidnap victim using "we" in describing where the kidnaper and victim went and what they did. The "we" is inappropriate in this context, because the relationship is the "he took me," or "he forced me." Sapir demonstrates that there cannot be confusion about pronouns by pointing out that, even while recalling memories from early childhood, we can remember whether we were alone or with someone else. Therefore, a shift in pronoun use in a narrative denotes a shift in the relationship.

Gaps in the narrative also betray deception. Minor contradictions often conceal major omission. A person may skip over a critical point in his statement because he doesn't want to reveal what happened just then. The statement; "I don't remember" often conceals a critical detail which the speaker would rather forget, or at least avoid mentioning.

Some subjects adroitly pose their own questions to avoid revealing information. Asking "Is this important?" at some point in the narrative suggests that there is information with which the subject does not feel comfortable.

A change in tense indicates a strong emotional response. For example, relating the story of a rape can begin with the subject telling it in the past tense. When the rape begins, some subjects change to the present tense because recalling the memory is painful.

Analyzing Content

Content analysis is also important. An important rule that Sapir stresses is: "Nothing happens in a vacuum." This highlights the need to examine the circumstances of the alleged incident, as well as the incident itself. If the subject tries to be deceptive, he not only has to conceal or change the crucial detail he's safeguarding, but he has to "massage" the other facts of the case to fit his version. This often leaves traces, either inconsistencies between allegations, or gaps in the narrative.

The reason is that the deceptive person is working from imagination, according to Sapir, and the truthful person is working from memory. In reality, there are many unimportant details that coexist with critical facts, and these often find their way into truthful narratives. The result is that a deceptive statement will be a "stripped-down" version, while the truthful statement also contains tangential or irrelevant information.

According to Sapir, most deceptive stories (80%-90%) push the main issue to the end of the statement, and do not continue the narrative after that. Another difference between truthful and deceptive statements is that most deceptive stories do not mention emotion, and those that do locate the emotions logically, near the most threatening point. In reality, often the most severe emotional reaction is an aftershock, which takes place after the most threatening moment has passed. Yet another feature of most deceptive stories is that they are governed by logic, while true stories are not necessarily logical.

How Reliable is SCAN

According to Sapir, his method is as reliable as a polygraph examination. In this country, we must remember, the polygraph is an investigative tool, and not evidence. During the years since its introduction during the early 1920s, the polygraph has not succeeded in gaining admission in courts, except for rare exceptions. Some states, such as New Mexico, allow introduction of polygraph examinations as evidence, but also allow the jury the discretion of judging it valid or not.

Because SCAN depends only upon the subject's statement, it's a "cold" technique. Scoring is based only upon structure and content, not upon gestures, perspiration, eye movements, and other factors that are open to individual interpretation. Thus, it avoids the weakness of techniques that depend upon "global scoring." Global scoring considers all possible factors that may affect the situation, and much depends upon the interpreter's judgment. The bottom line is that SCAN is potentially more capable of development into a precise technique.

SCAN is not a universal solution. To apply SCAN, it's essential to obtain the subject's cooperation. It's also essential to work with an uncontaminated statement. An inept interrogator who discloses information to a subject can impair the quality of the results. Likewise, it's difficult to use SCAN if another person has contributed to, or edited the statement, as often happens with press releases, published books and articles. although the subject may acknowledge or claim authorship, it's often difficult to tell whether a part of the statement originated with the subject, a ghost-writer or editor.

SCAN is a versatile method because it's free from constraints that limit other techniques. Unlike the polygraph, it does not require attaching the subject to a machine, and obtaining a signed release, which is sometimes required. The subject is therefore unaware that his statement will be the object of specialized treatment and analysis.

Unlike both the polygraph and the voice stress analysis method, SCAN does not require high-tech equipment, only a pencil and paper. It also does not require the subject's presence during analysis, because once the pure version of the statement is on paper, the analysis can proceed when convenient. Indeed, an investigator can obtain a statement, and have it analyzed later by a specialist.

Like other psychological and behavioral techniques, such as profiling, SCAN serves to focus an investigation. It a reasonably reliable method of probing for leads. This method is adaptable to many law enforcement investigative situations.
